HOLDS UP CAR NEAR JACKSON

Lone Bandit Forces Michigan Central Porter to Pass the Hat.

"EXCUSE ME; GEMMAN WANTS YOUR MONEY

Robber Emphasizes Demand With Gun; $300 Dropped Into Collection.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—With the assistance of two reluctant, but badly scared porters, a lone bandit held up four passengers on the rear sleeper of the Michigan Central passenger train due here from Detroit at 7:30 this morning. It was a serio-comic affair, which netted the bandit something under $300.

The robber entered the train at Jackson, Mich., and left it about fifteen minutes later, when Louis Thombs, one of the porters, signalled for the emergency brakes. T. Merritts, porter on the car attacked, was the first to view the robber, who pointed at him and handed him a bag.

"Here," said the intruder, who was dressed in black and white check suit and wore a cap pulled down over his eyes, "you go ahead and wake the passengers. Tell 'em there's a robber wants their money; no monkey business. I've got three or four pals with me."

Porter Passes the Hat.

Merritts took the bag, or hat, he is not sure which, but thinks it was a bag, and shook the occupant of the first berth he came to.

"Excuse me sir," said the porter, "but there's a man here says give him your money."

"Aw shut up; quit your kidding and let me sleep," came the angry reply from the berth.

"Tell him I'm a real robber with a gun," interposed the bandit, who poked the weapon between the curtains, where there was a tinkle of coins falling into the receptacle in the porter's hands.

From A. M. Todd, of Chicago, the robber got $135; from Herman Marks, of Detroit, $100, and from F. B. Palmer, of New York, an unknown sum.

"I don't know how much," said Palmer, "but it was what spare change I had with me."

Many Didn't Know of It.

There were about twenty passengers in the car and most of them didn't know that anything had happened until they arose this morning. The robbery took place at 1:45 o'clock. There were no women in the car.

The conductor of the train was authority for the statement that there was but one robber. One porter thought there were four of them and the other thought there were five. The conductor said that so far as he was able to learn the bandit's comrades existed only in some excited imagination.

Among the passengers were E. B. Willis and Paul Smith, of Detroit.

Later it was learned that the fourth passenger robbed was L. J. Rhoades, of Chicago.

ARE HAMPERED IN HUNT FOR SLAYER

TWO WERE SHOT DOWN

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Disinclination of Italians to give information to the police is hampering the detective department today in its efforts to identify the murderer of Anthony Puccio and Rosario Dispensa, the Italian bankers, who were shot to death last night in front of a saloon they had just purchased. A third man was wounded but fled. Both Puccio and Dispensa, it was made known today have been frequently arrested in connection with "black hand" cases and were thought by the police to have knowledge of such lawlessness but charges never were brought against them.

The bank owned by the two was wrecked a year ago by a dynamite bomb. Dispensa is said to have been worth about $100,000. A sister of Dispensa told the police that the two men were called out of the saloon by a strange man and that a moment later she heard reports of a shotgun.

The third man, the police thought was Joseph Portuguese, former employe of the slain partners. A letter from the law firm of Acton & Acton, Danville, Ill., to another former employe of the bank was found on the body of Puccio. It stated that Portuguese was wanted for selling liquor in violation of the law.

IS STILL HOPING TO GET GOETHALS

Perkins' Trip "Very Satisfactory," Says New York Mayor.

FOR BIG POLICE JOB

New York, Jan. 23. Mayor Mitchell made a statement this afternoon carrying the suggestion that Col. George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal is to be the next police commissioner of New York.

"From the beginning," said the mayor, "I have wanted Col. Goethals to head the police department. Recently George W. Perkins urged him to accept the place. I am to have a personal interview with Mr. Perkins tomorrow and until that time can make no statement."

Mr. Perkins sailed for Panama early in the month and will confer with Col. Goethals. If the colonel accepts the position of police commissioner it will be necessary for him to retire from the army.

"I have heard from Mr. Perkins," the mayor added, "and I can say that the result of his trip was very satisfactory. That is all I care to say just now."

WASHINGTON DISCOUNTS IT.

Washington, Jan. 23. If Col. Goethals intends to resign from the army to become police commissioner of New York his plans are unknown at the white house and the war department. It is generally understood here that President Wilson intends to make Col. Goethals the first governor of the canal zone.

"It seems incredible," said Secretary Garrison at the suggestion that Goethals would retire.

"I want him to build the new government railroad in Alaska," said Secretary Lane of the interior department.

No intimation of the colonel's plans has reached the isthmian canal commission offices.

COTTON CROP IMMENSE.

Last Year's Yield Exceeded on But One Previous Occasion.

Washington, Jan. 23.—Announcement by the census bureau today that 13,589,171 bales of cotton exclusive of linters, had been ginned prior to Jan. 16, officially established the fact that the 1913-14 cotton crop is the second in size the country has grown. Linters obtained to January 1 amounted to 396,934 bales, bringing the total cotton ginned, as far as official figures show, to 13,986,105 running bales. This amount will be increased by ginnings during the remainder of the season so that the final figures will show a crop of more than 14,000,000 bales.

GUZZLED SOME—AND SMOKED QUITE A FEW.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The American people drank 70,000,000 gallons of whisky, smoked 4,090,300,000 cigars and puffed 8,711,000,000 cigarettes during the six months ended Dec. 31, according to figures announced today by Commissioner Osborne of the internal revenue bureau.

The revenue collected from distilled spirits amounted to $85,862,712, the whisky tax being $16,142,845; tobacco, $41,296,593; corporation tax, $3,110,790; cigarettes, $10,899,000, and cigars, $12,270,000.

The total collection of taxes for the six months totalled $167,647,905, an increase of $4,175,630 over the corresponding period for 1912. The income tax paid under the new law aggregated $1,509. This tax did not have to be paid until March 1.

MINERS CURB WHITE'S POWER

Take Naming of Scale Committee Away from the President.

CHEER STRIKE PROBE

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 23. The power of the international president of the United Mine Workers of America was curtailed by the convention today. After much discussion, it was voted to vest the power of appointing the important scale committee of the convention, which formulates the demands to be submitted to the operators, to the delegates. Heretofore this committee has been named by the president.

Under the resolution, the delegates from each district will caucus after their arrival in the convention city and select their member of the committee.

The purpose of the resolution, as explained on the floor of the convention, was to get men from the mines rather than the district officers, "who, not having worked in the mines for some time, do not know the working conditions like the men who face the coal," on the committee.

The announcement that the resolution providing for investigation of the strike in Michigan and Colorado was sanctioned by the caucus of democratic representatives at Washington last night, was greeted with prolonged applause by the delegates.

Some Radical Resolutions.

Some radical resolutions remained today for the consideration of the United Mine Workers' convention, which began consideration of the report of the committee on resolutions Wednesday afternoon. It was hoped to complete the report late today.

Several resolutions, directed against the militia and the boy scout movement have been introduced, but the committee has not announced its action yet. One of these resolutions reads: "Be it resolved, That this organization go on record as opposed to any member joining the militia and that the organization of boy scouts movement as harmful to the best interests of the working people."

One resolution proposes that there be a general strike of miners in case an international war is engaged in by the United States.

GROUND SQUIRRELS SLAIN.

Farmers Supplement Efforts of Rain and High Water in California.

Stockton, Cal. Jan. 23.—Rain and high water, it was estimated here today have caused the death of 100,000 ground squirrels in the vicinity of Avena, plague germs turned out with clubs and as the rodents caught in the flood swam pests as well as conveyors of bubonic. Farmers who regard squirrels as crop ashore, they were slaughtered by thousands. At one ranch employes say they killed more than 5,000. Thousands of such squirrels were drowned in their holes.

Fort Wayne Man Opposes Use of Metal Cars on Trolley Lines.

OTHERS ALSO ARGUE

Washington, Jan. 23.—Argument against including electric trolley lines in legislation to enforce the use of steel cars was made before the house commerce committee by Arthur W. Brady, president of the Union Traction lines of Indiana. Use of metal cars in electric service, Brady told the commission, would increase the danger of electrocution of passengers in wrecks.

PRIMARIES ON FEBRUARY 24

Chairmen Fix Date for Selection of Precinct Committeemen.

ALL PARTIES IN IT

Edward G. Hoffman, chairman of the Twelfth district democratic committee; John Wessel, representing County Chairman W. A. Johnson, and Chairman Charles M. Preble, of the county progressive committee, met this morning and selected Tuesday, February 24, as the date for the county primary election of precinct committeemen.

On that date the democrats, republicans and progressives will elect committeemen to perfect the organizations of the different parties in this county, and on the Saturday following the progressives of Allen county will hold a convention in this city for the purpose of electing a county chairman.

Each of the other five committees of the Twelfth district has elected chairmen and completed organizations for the district congressional convention, and all are now waiting for Allen county to reorganize for the forthcoming campaign. It is said that District Chairman Harry Brown, of the progressive committee, will not set a date for the congressional convention until after the meeting here on Saturday, February 28.

Johnson a Candidate.

Will Johnson, one of the best known democratic workers in the county, has announced himself as a candidate for county auditor, subject to the democratic primaries next spring. Mr. Johnson has a wide acquaintance throughout the country and his candidacy, it is said, will be given a hearty support by all who know him. At this time Mr. Johnson has no opposition for the office.

Wire Tappers Fail to Get Terre Haute Doctor in Florida.

TWO UNDER ARREST

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 23.—The local police department received a telegram this morning from the chief of police at Jacksonville, Fla., stating that Eddie Kennedy and Louis Levinson were under arrest there in connection with an alleged wire-tapping scheme, but that Dr. James Laughead, of this city, had been enabled to save $2,000 through a timely warning from this city to the Jacksonville police.

Dr. Laughead was formerly well known in the practice of his profession here and at one time served as county coroner. Lately he has been devoting his attention to the storage and warehouse business. He is reputed to be possessed of considerable means.

FOIL AN ATTACK ON CROWN PRINCE

Demented Tailor Declares He is Brother of Frederick William.

SEIZED BY SENTRIES

Berlin, Jan. 23.—An unsuccessful attempt to attack Crown Prince Frederick William, of Germany, was made this afternoon as he was alighting from his automobile at his palace.

A man ran into the carriage-way and reached the door of the motor car. The sentry on duty in front of the palace dashed forward and seized the would-be assailant of the prince and overpowered him.

The man seemed to be suffering from mental derangement.

When taken to the police station the crown prince's assailant gave his name as Leopold Salomon and his age as 26. He declared that he was a brother of the crown prince and wished to ask him for assistance. Inquiries showed that he was a traitor.

IN PRISON 20 YEARS; HAS $100,000 ESTATE.

New York, Jan. 23.—Alphonso J. Stephani, a life convict in Dannemora state hospital, incarcerated twenty years ago for killing a man, has an estate valued at $105,673. This fact was made known by a report filed today in the supreme court. His committee expended $348 in Stephani's behalf last year. He now has $678 on hand and is said to "worry a good deal about the money." His committee recommends that no more money be placed on deposit at the prison to his account until his present fund is reduced.

HAS NOT YET TAKEN STAND

Wilson Makes This Clear as to Stock Exchange Regulation Laws.

DOESN'T WANT TO BE MISUNDERSTOOD

Executive Order Makes Canal Zone Tipless—Washington News.

Washington, Jan. 23.—White house officials declared today that President Wilson had taken no attitude whatever on legislation to regulate stock exchanges. His declaration to callers that he had omitted the subject from his messages because it was not included in the democratic platform, they said, was in no way to be interpreted as approval or disapproval of any proposed legislation by congress.

The president, it is said, desired to make it clear by his remarks on the scope of his recommendations to congress he was in no way passing upon the merits of any subject which may originate in congress without his recommendation.

White house officials also declared that President Wilson neither had approved nor disapproved the pending bills on trust legislation. It was said the bills introduced were not to be regarded as the last word by the administration or as the explicit desires of the president. It was pointed out that the measures were launched merely as a framework upon which the final legislation would be built and that free criticism by business men and the country generally of the merits of the proposals was now wanted.

No Tips in Canal Zone.

By executive order, President Wilson today promulgated what is practically an anti-tipping law for the Panama canal zone. Aside from prohibiting employes of the canal organization from receiving rebates or commissions on supplies, it prohibits gifts intended to influence any employe on the isthmus without the knowledge of the employer. It is entitled "an order to prevent the corrupt influencing of agents or servants" and provides a year's imprisonment and fines ranging from $10 to $100 for violations.

The order attracted much attention in view of the fact that Col. Goethals now is investigating charges that John Burke, commissary agent of the Panama railroad, received rebates on contracts.

Expect Bill to Pass Today.

Still working in the "legislative day" of Thursday, the senate again took up the Alaska railroad bill when it reassembled today with the expectation of passing the measure before adjournment tonight. Supporters of the bill claim an almost solid democratic majority in its favor.

Plans for congressional investigation of the Colorado and Michigan mine strikes were being framed today by Congressmen, who expect the house to act favorably on the decision of last night's caucus, which instructed the rules committee to bring in a special rule permitting such an investigation. While the action of the caucus does not actually order an investigation, supporters of the movement declare it assures one and they expect to see hearings begun by the house mines committee within two weeks. The house, itself, however, will have to act upon the matter when the rules committee reports.

Those who opposed the investigation in the caucus will continue to oppose it

WOMAN ACCUSED IN QUEER CASE

Indicted for Violation of the Postal Laws in California City.

DENIES CONFESSION

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 23.—Mrs. Minnie L. Christman, accused of mailing anonymous obscene and blackmailing letters to prominent residents of this city during the last four years, was indicted recently by the federal grand jury on a charge of violating the postal laws.

Postal inspectors and the police declare that the woman has confessed. This Mrs. Christman denies.

Many of the letters are of a very disgusting nature and involve either directly or by inference the good name of Mrs. Arthur P. Holland, one of Oakland's most prominent women.

The reason given in the alleged confession by Mrs. Christman is that she was actuated by a spirit of revenge, claiming that Mrs. Holland had stolen her husband's love.

DRILL HOLES IN SICK MAN'S SKULL

TO BATTLE PARESIS

Philadelphia, Jan. 23.—A remarkable operation, the first of its kind in this country, was performed at St. Mary's hospital, in the direct application of serum to a diseased brain through holes bored in the skull of the patient, a man 51 years old, who is suffering from paresis. The operation was performed by Dr. Ellwood R. Kirby, assisted by Drs. Leo. Wetjezynski, George Kiefler, Edward Murphy and Robley D. Snively. Dr. Kirby, in explaining the operation, said:

"The operation was performed as the only method of dealing with paresis. Salvarsan, a compound of arsenic, has achieved a wonderful reputation for combatting paresis germs in the body, but intravenous injections do not seem to reach the germs in the brain, as the remedy seems, to put it crudely, to filter out of the blood before it reaches the diseased cerebral tissues. This arsenical compound can not be used directly on the brain or nervous tissue, although it can be injected into the blood.

"Two small holes were bored in the patient's skull, one leading to the right and the other to the left half of the brain. Five cubic centimeters of the Salvarsanic serum were carefully injected into each brain hemisphere. This brought the serum into direct contact with the germs in the brain, and for the first time in this country those germs are being attacked at the seat of the disease.

"The operation of trepsing or boring small holes in the skill is not dangerous, but the application of serum directly into the brain is a radical step, which is justified, however, by the gravity of the malady."

MAROONED 8 DAYS O NISLAND.

Lake Fishermen Have Hard Struggle for Their Lives.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 23.—Melvin Brady, his father, Hugh Brady, and John Wideman, who were marooned eight days on North Fox island, with little to eat and with not an inhabitant on the island from whom to get help, have been rescued by the tug Ryan.

The men left Charlevoix on a fish tug. A big storm occurred that night and it was noon the next day before they could reach North Fox island.

"We had practically nothing to eat and the island is uninhabited," Brady said. "We found an old hunting cabin without a roof and fixed that up as comfortable as we could. We had to kill rabbits with stones and it was hard workl at that. So high were the waves that in one night they drove the tug thirty-five feet upon the shore and knocked two planks out of it."

JUSTICE FACES IMPEACHMENT.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Jan. 23.—Impeachment proceedings were filed against James H. Weir, who has been justice of the peace in Sellersburg since 1882. The action was filed in the Clark circuit court by George Bell, of this city, who charges Weir has been intoxicated frequently during office hours the last two years. Weir says the suit is a move on the part of enemies arising from charges made against a Sellersburg attorney who, according to Weir, obtained money from him by false pretense.

John Y. Weir, father of the defendant, was appointed a justice of the peace in 1849 and there has been a member of the Weir family in the office since that time.

LINCOLN RELIC GOES AT $3,250

Copy of the Thirteenth Amendment Was in Consignment.

BOOKS IN DEMAND

New York, Jan. 23.—One of the three duplicate copies of the thirteenth amendment to the constitution signed by President Lincoln, Schuyler Colfax, speaker of the house of representatives, and Vice President Hamlin, was sold to George D. Smith for $3,250 at the first session of the dispersal of the Lincolniana of the late Major William H. Lambert, at the Anderson art galleries, Madison avenue and Fortieth street. "Approved February 1, 1865. Abraham Lincoln," is in the president's autograph.

One of fifty unauthorized copies of the emancipation proclamation, signed by Abraham Lincoln and William H. Seward, was sold to Mr. Smith for $1,900. The proceeds of two sessions of the sale were $15,675.

Noah Webster's dictionary, a small volume for "primary schools," according to the title page, but bearing on fly-leaf the inscription, "A. Lincoln Esq. Atty & Counsellor at Law, Springfield, Illinois," and on the title page the autograph, "A. Lincoln, Springfield, Ill. Sangamond County," went to Mr. Smith for $730. The volume was published in New York in 1833.

A law book from Lincoln's library, Angell's "Treatise on the Limitations of Actions at Law and Suits in Equity and Admiralty," Boston, 1846, with "A. Lincoln" on the flyleaf, went to Mr. Charles Sessler for $550.

Mr. E. D. North paid $560 for Charles Gilman's "The Illinois Conveyancer," another autographed law book from Lincoln's library, and $450 for "The Life and Speeches of Henry Clary," used by Lincoln in making his first anti-slavery speeches. The Rosenbach company, of Philadelphia, paid $525 for "Works of William Paley," bearing Lincoln's autograph.

Mr. H. Wittman paid $400 for a copy of the war department broadside offering $100,000 for the murderer of Lincoln and announcing that all persons harboring the conspirators would be tried as accomplices, with the punishment of death. Mr. North paid $675 for the original playbills issued at Ford's theater on the afternoon and evening of the assassination.

An Everyday View of the Next Sunday School Lesson

(By Dr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Crafts, in the Christian Herald.)

SUNDAY, JANUARY 25.

Serving Jesus. Luke 8:1-3, 9:57-62; 10:38-42. Golden text, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these my brethren, even these least, ye did it unto me"—Matt. 25:40, R. V.

Going about doing good, that was Jesus' occupation during the years of his ministry on earth. The "twelve" usually went with him, not so much to help their Master as to listen to his teachings and absorb his spirit of loving helpfulness, that they might be prepared to minister in his name after he should return to his Father. Now and then others followed in his train—those who had been healed by him, who were desirous of rendering some service to him by showing their gratitude. So did Mary Magdalene, not a bad woman, but an unfortunate woman, had been a lunatic. She was called "Mary Magdalene" because the town of Magdala was her home. So were the inhabitants of Nazareth called "Nazarenes."

In towns and villages through which Jesus passed there were benevolent people, some of them women, who delighted to contribute gifts of food and even lodging for his comfort. One such home as this was that of Lazarus, Mary and Martha at Bethany. But among the true followers of Jesus, there were also false ones. Jesus, by his power to read men's thoughts as if they had been open books, knew at a glance who were the false-hearted. And one day when a man said to him, "I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest," Jesus recognized that the man was seeking distinction, and he replied: "The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head." In fact, Jesus had no abiding place, and it was not his intention to set up a kingdom on earth. Two other false-hearted men joined his train, but they were frank enough to say that they wanted to wait a while before actually becoming his followers. Jesus plainly gave them to understand that such half-hearted service was not acceptable to him (read Luke 9:57-62).

But Jesus knew that Lazarus and Mary and Martha were true-hearted followers, and it was his delight to be their guest. On one occasion at least, he probably remained with them a whole week during the Feast of Tabernacles, in the third year of his ministry. During that festive week, according to the Jewish law, all persons dwelt in booths made of living trees, made usually on the roofs of their low, flat houses. In the courtyard in the center of the house was a larger booth which served as a sitting room and dining room for the whole family. It should be stated that these booths were reminders of the days when Israel dwelt in tents. We seem now to see Jesus sitting in the family booth in the house at Bethany, Mary and Martha are both desirous to honor their guest. But what different ways they took to do it! Martha hurried back and forth through the courtyard almost distracted by her "much serving," bringing to Jesus the choicest viands she could prepare, while Mary just sat down at his feet and with an eager face listened to all he had to say. Mary's composure nettled Martha, and she actually complained to Jesus. "Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? Bid her therefore that she help me." "Martha, Martha," said Jesus, tenderly chiding her, "Thou art anxious and troubled about many things, but one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part which shall not be taken from her." How much better pleased Jesus would have been if Martha had brought him a dish of olives, or even bread only, and then had sat down as Mary had done! But she was cumbered with much serving, a kind of serving that did not contribute to the highest companionship. There is in this incident a lesson for all to learn about the measure of Christian hospitality that it should not consist in such a variety of goodies and lavishly spread feasts that soulful companionship can have no place.

The "good part" is to serve Jesus. We can serve him with our feet by going to the church and to the Sunday school. We can serve him with our eyes by reading his teachings in the Bible. We can serve him with our ears by listening to what pastors and teachers have to tell us about him. We can serve him with our lips by prayer and song, and by telling others about his wonderful love. We can serve him best by giving our entire selves to his service, doing for others in his name just the things he did when he was on earth, so far as we have power to do them. We have his sanction for this, for he has said, "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of these my brethren, even these least, ye did it unto me." These words have been chosen as the golden text of this lesson. And they will indeed prove golden to any one who will undertake to practice them.

This has been most beautifully set forth by Miss Margaret Cole Brown in what she calls "A Banner Exercise." It has been our pleasure to make use of it with gratifying effect to the boys and girls. Let thirteen banners be cut out of white window shade linen measuring about 12x18 inches in size and fastened to small poles. Letters for the mottoes should be cut out of red paper, decorated with gilt lines, and should be about one inch and a half in height in order to be seen across a room. The symbols used should be gilt trimmed with red, or red trimmed with gilt. These symbols and mottoes can best be described by giving the service as outlined by Miss Brown:

First Banner—Maltese cross (red). Motto, "In His Name I Serve." Scripture recitation, "In the name of our God we will set up our banners"—Ps. 20:5.

"Oh royal law of life,
By which all life shall grow
More heavenly, 'tis this:
True service here below."

Second Banner—A crown (gilt). Motto, "Loyal Service." Scripture recitation, II Tim. 2:4.

"Let this mind ever be in me;
To serve my King right royally."

Third Banner—A cloak (red with gilt). Motto, "Loving Service." Scripture recitation, I Cor. 15:6.

"Oh, may I wear where'er I be Christ's mantle of true charity."

Fourth Banner—A helmet. Motto, "Active Service." Scripture recitation, I Thess. 5:8.

"Young soldier! On my head he'll place
The helmet of his saving grace."

Fifth Banner—A cuirass or breastplate (gilt with red lines). Motto, "True Service." Scripture recitation, Ps. 60:4.

"And the breastplate of righteousness
Shall be part of my knightly dress."

Sixth Banner—A bugle (gilt with red banner attached). Motto, "Faithful Service." Scripture recitation, I Cor. 16:13.

"Loud let this bugle note arise, Faith grows by daily exercise."

Seventh Banner—A spear (gilt). Motto, "Humble Service." Scripture recitation, Luke 14:11.

"Surrender to the Lord my King,
My service, life, love, everything."

Eighth Banner—A shield (gilt with red cross). Motto, "Patient Service." Scripture recitation, Luke 16:10.

"Ever let me faithful be
In smallest things I do for thee."

Ninth Banner—Gauntlets, representing hands (gilt with red lines). Motto, "Helpful Service." Scripture recitation, Eccles. 9:10.

"Remember to do the King's commands,
For helpful service train thy hands."

Tenth Banner—A sword (gilt). Motto, "Valiant Service." Scripture recitation, Eph. 6:17.

"Valiant my heart must ever be,
My sword for truth fight manfully."

Eleventh Banner—A sandal (gilt). Motto, "Sacrificing Service." Scripture recitation, Eph. 6:15.

"In paths of peace lead thou the way,
My feet shall follow thine each day."

Twelfth Banner—The holy cup (gilt). Motto, "Sacrificing Service." Scripture recitation, Matt. 15:13.

"Christ, thy loving thou didst prove
By the sweet sacrifice of love."

Thirteenth Banner—The flag (red with a gilt cross). Motto, "Victorious Service." Scripture recitation, "Phil. 4:13.

"Ever on thy name we'll call,
Christ, triumphant over all."

Concert recitation by the standard-bearers kneeling:

"O King of heaven! King of earth!
This solemn pledge we give:
We'll help the needy and distressed;
For right and truth we'll live."

This lesson would be a good occasion to emphasize the principle to which the Boy Scouts subscribe: "Do a kind act for somebody every day." That would tally three hundred and sixty-five kind acts every year. If a boy thus begins when he is ten years old, or even younger, and lives to be sixty years of age, how many kind acts will he do in the name of Jesus during his whole life? That is a sum worth doing, a life worth living. But there are people living who do not do one kind act in a month! What a lot of joy and happiness they are depriving others of, and how miserable they are making themselves!

In a corner of an express train there sat a little old woman who was not accustomed to travel. Presently the conductor came along and asked for her ticket. She drew it out from her well-worn glove. "What are you doing on this train?" he said to her in a gruff voice. "We don't stop at your place. No stops until we get to Summertown." "But I was told this was the right train," she said meekly. "Next time you go away from home have some one to take care of you," the conductor snarlingly answered. "But what am I to do?" she asked. "We'll take you on to Summertown, and you can get back some time tonight," he said, and passed on. The poor old woman leaned back in her seat looking thoroughly frightened. There was a vacant seat beside her. A tall young fellow about eighteen years old left his seat and took that vacant one. As he did so, he said to the old woman: "May I sit here and explain about your train?" "Yes, oh, yes; how kind you are!" she exclaimed. And then the young man said: "There will be a train leaving Summertown in an hour after this one arrives, and it will take you back to where you want to go." "I don't mind one bit now I know that," she replied, and she was soon engaged in a pleasant conversation with the young man. Presently he returned to his seat, and an elderly gentleman sitting near said: "I wonder if you would mind telling me what made you take so much trouble to comfort a lonely stranger?" The young man hesitated and blushed and then replied: "Well, sir, if you really care to know, I was just glad to have the chance to cheer her up. Till about eight months ago I was living a thoroughly selfish life. My ambition was simply to have a good time. But one day my Master showed me that was a small, mean way to live, and I promised that if he would help me I would never let a day pass without trying to do at least one little service for him. And when I heard the conductor speaking so roughly to that poor old soul, I just said to myself, 'There's my chance for today.' I just went over and smoothed her down for Jesus' sake."

THE THIN AND WEAK

Easy Way for Them to Get Strong and Fat.

To thin and weak Meyer Bros. Co. have a word to say. Let them use Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, that is now so popular, and they will soon be plump and rosy.

Samose is not an ordinary medicine; it is a flesh forming food that is adapted to the most delicate. Its tonic effect gives strength and health so that after its use for a short time, all the flesh and fat producing elements in the food will be easily assimilated and retained by the body.

The large sale Druggists Meyer Bros. & Co. have had on Samose since they first introduced it in Fort Wayne and the wonderful results following its use have made them such an enthusiastic believer in its great merits, that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose does not make thin people fat and restore strength and health.

When a gain in weight is noticed after Samose has been used for a week or ten days, and health has improved, and you notice yourself growing stronger, you certainly should feel more than satisfied with what you have received from the small cost of 50c. Adv.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Nehemiah 4:1-12.

1 But it came to pass that when Sanballat heard that we builded the wall, he was wroth, and took great indignation, and mocked the Jews.

2 And he spake before his brethren and the army of Samaria, and said, What do these feeble Jews? will they fortify themselves? will they sacrifice? will they make an end in a day? will they revive the stones out of the heaps of the rubbish which are burned?

3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was by him, and he said, Even that which they build, if a fox go up, he shall even break down their stone wall.

4 Hear, O our God; for we are despised: and turn their reproach upon their own head, and give them for a prey in the land of captivity:

5 And cover not their iniquity and let not their sin be blotted out from before thee: for they have provoked thee to anger before the builders.

6 So built we the wall; and all the wall was joined together unto the half thereof: for the people had a mind to work.

7 But it came to pass, that when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, and the Ammonites, and the Ashdodites, heard that the walls of Jerusalem were made up, and that the breaches began to be stopped, then they were very wroth,

8 And conspired all of them together to come and to fight against Jerusalem, and to hinder it.

9 Nevertheless we made our prayer unto our God, and set a watch against them day and night, because of them.

10 And Judah said, The strength of the bearers of burdens is decayed, and there is much rubbish; so that we are not able to build the wall.

11 And our adversaries said, They shall not know, neither see, till we come in the midst among them, and slay them, and cause the work to cease.

12 And it came to pass, that when the Jews which dwelt by them came, they said unto us ten times, From all places whence ye shall return unto us they will be upon you.

Good Roads in Allen County.

While the good roads movement has been engaging widespread attention, and people in many sections of the country are wasting a vast deal of time and energy in talk, it is notable that here in Allen county preliminary steps have been taken for actual construction of the most pretentious work of this character yet undertaken. Petitions now on file with the county commissioners ask for the construction of some thirty-one stone roads, and every township in the county is represented in the proposed movement. Moreover, the petitions have been signed by taxpayers in much greater number than is legally required, thus showing the attitude of the people toward this important improvement. All of the work, too, has been done without fanfare of trumpets, and in such quiet, business-like fashion that the movement attracted little attention outside the immediate territory affected until the petitions were practically complete.

The most pretentious of the better roads project is the proposal to construct a stone highway between Fort Wayne and New Haven, following the course of Maumee avenue eastward from the city. As designed the stone work will be eighteen feet in width, properly drained on either side. This improvement will be wholly within Adams township, and hundreds of taxpayers in that township have affixed their signatures to the petition asking for its construction. The value of the improvement to Adams township and to residents of other townships who may have occasion to use the road as well can scarcely be estimated. No Allen county highway carries a heavier traffic the year round than does this road, and Adams township has set a splendid example in its desire for better roads. Taken by and large, Allen county roads have for many years averaged up with those of other counties in the state, but there have been and still are some mighty bad highways in the county as well as some excellent ones. That so determined an effort at improvement is now manifest not alone in Adams township but in other sections of the county as well is a splendid commentary upon the progressive character of Allen county's sterling citizenship.

Muncie is the latest Indiana city to launch a crusade against the sale of "dope," and the grand jury there has returned indictments against two physicians who are accused of supplying habit-forming drugs illegally to young men. The drug evil is plainly one of those which only persistent and close surveillance will hold in check. Without the active warfare by authorities against it, there are always to be found men who are willing to take the chance with the law, despite the fact that none better than they know the appalling results of the grip of the drug upon its victims.

Washington political gossips are now wondering if there is anything significant in the remarks made by Secretary Bryan in his Baltimore address wherein he admitted that it had been a cherished ambition since his boyhood to occupy a seat in the United States senate. But then, it never did take a great deal to set Washington political gossips a-wondering.

Doubtless the Carnegie hero fund commission, which announced a new list of awards of medals for heroism Wednesday night, had not yet learned of the case of the Anderson young man who indulged in a diet of beans and buttermilk six times daily for a week in order to take on weight enough to be able to join the army.

Terre Haute is said to be expecting still more indictments in the graft and elections investigation now being made there by the grand jury. Evidently Terre Haute desires to get 'em all while she's getting. Let us hope she will.

PRESS ON THREAT TO "RAID" CIVIL SERVICE.

The Nation's Affairs.

Louisville Times: "To his administration of the nation's affairs with the one purpose in view of protecting and forwarding the nation's interest is due the fact that Mr. Wilson is today the possessor of popular confidence to a degree never exceeded in the country's political history."

The Reason Last Year.

Buffalo Commercial: "There is hardly any doubt that the reason why the president permitted congress last year to have its way in letting down the civil service bars was because he did not feel secure to oppose it."

Efficient Work.

Springfield Republican: "The orderly and efficient performance of the general work in the larger postoffices is of necessity under the direct control and supervision of assistant postmasters, and consequently those offices that have the most capable assistants rank high with the postoffice department and the public."

A Greater Wrong.

New York Times: "What the rider to the postoffice bill does is to try to remedy a minor and passing wrong by a much greater and more lasting one."

Should Be Voted Down.

New York Mail: "This pernicious attempt to break down the merit system of government by means of a rider to an appropriation bill should promptly be voted down."

President's Loyalty.

Philadelphia Bulletin: "If there has not been previously a determined purpose on the part of the president to make clear his loyalty to the cause of civil service reform there can be little chance of hesitation now."

Several Million Still.

Brooklyn Eagle: "Concede that every present incumbent of the office of assistant postmaster makes way for a democrat. That would find room for only 2,600 victors, leaving several million still to be provided for."

Ought to Be Resisted.

Albank Knickerbocker Press: "It was to be expected that a political party which has been out of power for a decade and a half would attempt to make raids upon available offices. But this attempt to grab the assistant postmasterships ought to be resisted to the last."

HEALTH INSURANCE.

Six million Americans carry life insurance.

It is money in pocket for the insurance companies whenever one of these learns how to take better care of his health. Incidentally it is of general advantage, since obviously a live man is worth more to the community than a dead one.

There is being formed, under eminent auspices, a novel commercial undertaking which is partly philanthropic also, called the Life Extension institute, to undertake to prolong the lives of American policyholders.

The country is to be districted. In each district there is to be a doctor-in-chief, plenty of sub-doctors and ample laboratories to make the most careful tests of urine, blood, feces, gastric contents, etc. Policy holders will get this examination service at frequent intervals without extra charge, the insurance companies footing the bill. Persons who are not policy holders may get it, together with valuable literature on health and hygiene, for a small charge.

The men who put up the money for the plan expect to get a fair return in direct dividends out of what they will receive from the insurance companies, together with the fees. But they promise to put back into the work all profits above 5 per cent. in money invested, plus a third of the excess profits.

The minute an examination shows that a policy holder or other subscriber is out of kelter, the nature of his ailment will be told to him and he will be urged to lose no time in going to his regular physician for treatment.

The idea is to systematize taking the stitch in time which saves nine. This will be done, in the beginning, as a commercial enterprise, just as life insurance itself is. But if it meets with success and develops real usefulness, the chances are it will one day be taken over as a public function, just as life insurance promises soon to be taken over by the state—Wisconsin, as you know, having already made the start.

Then we shall have the Chinese method of doctoring, not to cure disease, but to anticipate it.

Which, after all, is the only sensible method, don't you think?

Retail Merchants Close Convention With Theater Party.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 23.—Indianapolis was selected as the next convention city in the closing session of the fourteenth annual meeting of the Indiana Retail Merchants' association. The convention decided to employ a state organizer; rejected the recommendation of President Clark to reduce dues and percapita tax and voted down a resolution to support a movement for a "pure food shoe law." All the present officers were re-elected as follows:

Ralph B. Clark, Anderson, president; Otto C. Hornung, Terre Haute, vice president; Edgar Goldsberry, Lafayette, treasurer; Thomas F. Palfrey, Vincennes, secretary. The annual reports showed a gain in membership and that the state organization is in good financial condition. The social side of the convention closed with a theater party last night.

New Home Treatment For Removing Hair

(Modes of Today.)

The following formula is now almost universally used by beauty specialists for banishing hairy or fuzzy growths from the chin, lip or cheek: Get from a druggist a small original package of delatone and mix enough with water to cover the hairs not wanted. Apply and in about 2 or 3 minutes remove and with it comes every bit of hair. The skin should be washed following this treatment to remove the remaining delatone. Be careful to get the real delatone, otherwise you might be disappointed.

AUBURN NEWS.

Auburn, Ind., Jan. 23.—Mrs. Morton Sharpe and mother, Mrs. John Garmbling, spent Thursday with relatives in Fort Wayne.

Stanley Nelson was at St. Joe Thursday on a business trip.

Mrs. Frank Kemp, of Garrett, was the guest of Auburn friends Thursday.

Mrs. Homer Jackson entertained the Priscilla Embroidery club this afternoon at her home on South Van Buren street.

Charles Dunn and bride returned yesterday from Angola and have begun housekeeping in the house owned by Cook Ford. Mr. Dunn claimed his bride at Angola Monday. He is a clerk at the Kettring drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Stone have been spending several days visiting among their many Auburn friends. Their home is at Angola.

W. H. Ward, of North Manchester, spent several days this week in this city on business.

Claude McLaughlin, of Garrett, was among the out of town callers here today.

Mrs. Joseph Grover entertained the members of the Nacana club yesterday afternoon. There were many members present and afternoon's study proved very interesting.

The many friends of Miss Ida Steckley were greatly grieved yesterday when a message was received stating that she had passed away at a Chicago hospital where she had been taking treatment for tuberculosis for several months. She had been ill for two years. The remains will be brought back to this place for funeral and burial, but the exact time has not been learned.

The wedding of Miss Grace Weaver, of this city, and Mr. Timothy Becker, of Kendallville, occurred yesterday noon at the home of the bride's parents on Second and Jackson streets. The wedding was a very quiet one only the immediate friends and relatives being present. The groom is car inspector for the Fort Wayne & Northwestern railway and they will make their future home in Kendallville. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Weaver and is a very popular young lady in this city.

SURE THING!

The Pessimist—It's an awful winter! It puzzles me how we are going to get over it!

The Optimist—Why, with a "spring" of course!

THEY ALL SEEM TO APPROVE IT

Wilson Has Accomplished the Impossible, Says Gilson Gardner.

AS TO TRUST PROGRAM

By Gilson Gardner.

Washington, Jan. 23. President Wilson has accomplished the impossible. He has devised a trust program which commands the approval of Oscar Underwood, Theodore Roosevelt and James R. Mann. For good measure we might add the New York World, William Randolph Hearst, Champ Clark, Louis Brandeis and the stock exchange.

What is the answer?

The program is federal—that meets the prescriptions in Roosevelt's messages from 1901 to 1912.

The program seeks to restore and regulate competition—that meets the suggestions of Louis Brandeis.

The program seeks to unscramble the interlocking directorates—that meets the desires of Representative Stanley and the Pujo money trust investigators.

The program looks to a board of adjusting well-intentioned big business to the requirements of the law—that is what is desired by Mr. Gary, of the steel trust, and George W. Perkins, of a certain group of the progressive party.

And finally, the program looks to a general supervision of railway security issues—which is what investors in such securities desire in order to give market value to such property.

If there is to be any opposition to, or disapproval of, the president's program, it will come from three other quarters: (1) The states' rights democrats; (2) the LaFollette republicans, who fear the "legalization" of the watered capital in railroad properties; (3) the advanced wing of the progressive party, who say that all these trust remedies are futile and that the only way to break a trust is to take from it the special privilege on which it rests—its patents, its monopoly of mineral lands, its private car system, its pipe lines, its land monopoly, etc., as the case may be. This group is represented by men like Louis Post, Gifford Pinchot, Victor Murdock, George L. Record and Francis Heney.

In all the interviews printed on the day following the delivery of the message, that of Representative James R. Mann, republican minority leader, is most significant. He said: "It is the strongest nationalistic message ever sent to congress. It will be a bitter pill to our states' rights friends."

Mann is correct. The message follows Roosevelt's "New Nationalism" in plan and specifications. "The nation," said Roosevelt, in his 1901 message to congress, "should assume power of supervision and regulation over all corporations doing an interstate business." In his 1904 message, he said: "The object of the bureau of corporations is to accomplish the purposes of its creation by co-operation and not by antagonism." In his 1905 message he recommended "adequate supervision and regulation," in place of "sweeping prohibition of restraints on competition." Finally in 1912, in his speech at Columbus, Ohio, February 21, Roosevelt said: "Business must be done in large units. * * * We must introduce an effective method of regulating big corporations so as to help legitimate business as an incident to thoroughly and completely safeguarding the interests of the people as a whole."

Which shows that the Roosevelt program and the Wilson program as to trusts have never been very far apart. There is much more fundamental difference between Wilson and the southern democrats, of whom Underwood is leader. Will Underwood again "take program?" That is the interesting query which the present situation brings to the front. Probably he will. He took program on the tariff and currency. He has a very delicate situation on his hands in Alabama, owing to his fight with Hobson for the senatorial seat. He can not afford to array the national administration against him. Probably that accounts for Underwood's present endorsement of the federal nationalistic program outlined by President Wilson. Underwood has a strong following among the reactionary southern democrats of the house and the senate. His complaisance accounts in large measure for the unanimity with which the message of Wilson is received.

Another factor making for this approval is the form in which the message has been phrased. Wilson has a tactful way of suggesting that the medicine he is about to deliver is what the patient has been craving and even New York financiers seem to have been hypnotized by the suggestive language that big business has come to the point where it is really demanding legislation of this character and that congress and the president are merely functioning to a public sentiment already fully formed.

ENGINEERS RUSH WORK.

Complete Topography of Divide as Far as Eel River.

Engineer Frank Scholes and his assistants, who are engaged in taking land levels and securing other data preliminary to the survey of the lake to lake waterway through this city, will leave Saturday morning for Claypool. They have completed the preliminary topography of the divide between Fort Wayne and Eel River, and next week will take up the work from Eel River to Tippecanoe.

H. F. Sackmus and Lawrence Glasgow, of Cleveland, have arrived to join the corps under the direction of Mr. Scholes. Junior Engineer P. M. Churchill, in charge of the work, and Surveyor M. R. Sutherland are expected in Fort Wayne tomorrow from the northwestern portion of the state.

Denmark has between seven thousand and eight thousand automobiles, or about one to every four hundred inhabitants.

Society

A beautiful card party was enjoyed by about twenty-five ladies this afternoon, who were guests at a five hundred party for which Mrs. H. A. Duemling, of West Creighton avenue, was the hostess. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers. In the parlor American Beauty roses filled the room with their fragrance and a window box of spring blossoms, with their own foliage was much admired. Many roses and blossoming plants were used in the hall and other rooms. Mrs. Duemling was assisted throughout the afternoon by her daughter, Miss Edith, and by Miss Katherine Kampe.

* * *

An informal "kaffee klatsch" was Mrs. John Moring's manner of entertaining members of the Saturday club and a few other personal friends of Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke, of Indianapolis, this morning. Mrs. Clark is in the city for a two days' stay, the guest of Mrs. O. N. Guildlin, and it was her great pleasure to meet about twenty-five Fort Wayne women over a cup of coffee and in so charming a manner. Mrs. Moring was assisted by Mrs. A. Z. Polhamus and Mrs. E. E. Morgan, who presided at the table, while Miss Lillian Polhamus, daintily dressed in pink and white, opened the door to the callers. Lovely pink tulips and carnations lent an air of spring to the rooms and pink candles lighted the coffee table.

* * *

At half past 12 o'clock, Mrs. O. N. Guildlin gave a luncheon at her home in Fairfield avenue, with the same honor guest, Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke, present to meet women particularly identified with the work of the Woman's league. There was no formality about the entertainment but the appetizing menu and cordiality of the hostess contributed to the enjoyment of the opportunity to meet Mrs. Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carson have returned to Chicago, after a visit with friends in this city.

Mrs. Frank Greenwell, of Huntertown, is visiting Mrs. Cora Hunter and daughter, Miss Hunter, for several days.

The ladies of the Kneedle-Knott club met with Mrs. J. E. Canada, of 2727 South Hanna street, yesterday afternoon and passed a very pleasant time. A luncheon was daintily served the guests. There were present Mesdames H. Trier, H. G. Kaufman, B. H. Hire, B. Reiff, B. Craig. The next hostess will be Mrs. Hire, of 1738 Illinois street.

The Wayne coterie entertained friends at their home in West Berry street last evening at a musicale. Misses Luth Gumpper and Loretta Hayes and Messrs. Emil Koeppel and Tracy J. Kingman gave a program that was greatly enjoyed by the entire company. There were present Mr. and Mrs. Koeppel, Mrs. Kittie Long, Mrs. Frances Malloy, and Misses Ruth Gumpper, Virginia Olds, Irene Comparet, Irene Malloy, Elizabeth O'Rourke, Loretta Hayes, Clara Piepenbrink, Marie Calkins, Myrle Matson and T. J. Kingman.

The Misses Linda Reyling, Hazel Ramp, Hannah Stetter, Elizabeth Stetter, Ella Rippe, Esther Hasty, Emily Stetter, Bertha Rodenberg, Minnie Rodenberg, Evelyn Kase, Helen Schroeder and Mrs. Frank Tooke and Messrs. Paul Richter, Clarence Sebold, Gus Rodenberg, Will Starke, Carl Starke, George Barrett, Frank Tooke, Walter Vetter, Walter Schaeffer, Victor Jacobs, Fred Kade, Lawrence Vetter and Elmer Buck formed a merry party of young people who went to New Haven last Saturday evening for a drive and a lunch on their arrival.

Mrs. Ambrose, of Gay street, celebrated her natal anniversary recently in company of a number of her friends who gave her a surprise party at her own home. Supper was served at 6 o'clock. There were present Mrs. Cyrus Baird, Mrs. Magdalena Rudolph, Mrs. David Epple and son, Charles, Mrs. Elizabeth Rison, Mrs. Henry Trautman, Mrs. John Boedeker, Mrs. Charles Lake, Mrs. Herman Winkler and daughter, Frieda, Mrs. Ludwig West, Mrs. John Hirschman, Mrs. Martin Hengsteler and son, Otto, Mrs. Carl Tirschman, Mrs. Charles Huesner and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Waggoner.

Tinker—Shutt.

Mr. Harry L. Tinker, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Tinker, and Miss Brilliant B. Shutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Shutt, were married Thursday afternoon at the residence of the pastor and by Rev. C. A. Hirschman, of the Crescent Avenue Evangelical church. Both bride and groom are prominent young Fort Wayne people and their marriage at this time is something of a surprise to their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Tinker will make their home in Lakeside. Mr. Tinker is circulation manager for the Wildwood Magazine.

Noted Club Woman Here.

MRS. GRACE JULIAN CLARKE.

Mrs. Grace Julian Clarke, of Indianapolis, who is in Fort Wayne to confer with local club women concerning the biennial meeting of the National Federation of Women's clubs to be held in Chicago, in June, lectured this afternoon at the court house assembly room on the subject of woman's suffrage, of which she is an earnest advocate. The afternoon meeting was under the auspices of the College club. Mrs. Clarke talked last evening at the meeting of the James H. Smart school parent-teacher club. Today she was the honor guest at two social affairs. Mrs. Clarke is the guest of Mrs. O. N. Guildlin.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

The Wonder Story of the Panama Canal.

In describing the sensations and mental impressions imparted by Lyman H. Howe's scenes showing every important phase of the construction of the Panama canal, a prominent reviewer writes: "It demonstrates better than anything else just how Howe's exhibition has become a part of our national life, a sort of glorified newspaper, so that he who runs may read. Particularly is this the case with the Panama canal feature—for truly it is a feature in the fullest sense and the biggest Howe has ever shown. Here we have, in addition to the wonderfully perfect photography, the rattle of the machinery, the bang and clang and clatter of giant dredges, the creaking of pulleys and cables, the puff of engines and all other sounds that add to the babel and confusion of atmospheric confusion while Americans were constructing the eighth (and greatest) world wonder."

Ethel Barrymore and "Tante"—Majestic Wednesday Evening.

Coincident with the great praise showered upon Miss Ethel Barrymore for her now actually famous characterization of Anne Douglas Sedgwick's peculiar heroine, Madame Mercedes Okraska, in "Tante," any comment coming from the actress and bearing upon the methods she adopted in preparing herself for the portrayal of which is admitted to be one of the most complex and mysterious impersonations of recent seasons in our theater, must needs be of value and great interest. While C. Haddon Chambers arranged the novel for presentation as a play, and from Mrs. Sedgwick's story has succeeded in bringing forth a comedy at once brilliant, interesting and amusing. Miss Barrymore's cameo-like drawing of the principal character, clear-cut, scintilating and sure of touch, is distinctly her own and has placed her at once in the front rank of those players whose efforts are to be taken seriously for the good of the American theater.

AT THE TEMPLE

Certainly the unusually interesting is the order of things at the Temple theater just now. Besides it is a clean and entertaining series of acts, as well, with numbers that are equally entertaining to youth, middle age and to men and women whose years number past the three-score mark. What is the headliner in all this? Just whatever one happens to like best, but the majority of people have enough of patriotism born in them to like the "Old Soldier Fiddlers." Five men who actually served in the civil war, three in the union ranks and two in the confederate, give an act combining music and talk with a little dancing of the Virginia reel and hornpipe, that brought many people to their feet. That is going some with a vaudeville audience.

But the "Old Soldiers" get people "going." First, because of their interesting program, beginning with old songs of war days, "Arkansaw Traveler," and including others that it takes old timers to remember, such as "Old Zip Coon," "Money Musk," "The Mocking Bird," "Pop, Goes the Weasel" and the Virginia reel and hornpipe. The men play and sing and the leader has a fetching line of humor that belongs to him while every little while someone else of the five does a stunt that adds equally to the delight of the audience. The scenic setting is a bit of the battlefield of Gettysburg, representing the scene at the anniversary of the great battle as held last July at the notable reunion of the "blue and the gray," on the spot itself. Many of the audiences yesterday needed no invitation to rise to their feet when the "stars and stripes" drop before their eyes and the orchestra starts the "Star Spangled Banner."

A beautiful black horse, Don Fulano, with an intelligence that is wonderful, does many startling things. The act is extremely pleasing and pretty. Pearl Brothers and Burns take the place of Dan Harrington, who was billed and they have something new that is side-splitting it's so funny. The act is a laugh maker and one of the best and newest things of the season. The Willard Hutchinson and company give a farce called "A Leap Year Leap." It is funny all the time without a dull minute and with no one guessing what is coming next. Walsh and Bentley, musical acrobats, have some new stuff in their line and Misses Shirk and Allen, "harmony singers," have a burlesque on grand opera that takes well.

AT THE EMPRESS

There will be numerous new faces in the amateur lineup at the Empress tonight which will follow the first performance at the Sullivan & Considine theater. These contests are always productive of good fun and tonight's will be no exception to the established rule. A total of six acts have been secured for the affair ranging from novelty turns to song and dance numbers. This is to be given in addition to the regular performance, which includes the Six Harmony Girls in a gorgeous offering; Al Herman, "The Black Laugh;" "Speigel's Daughter's Beau," a delightful sketch; Williams and Segal, dancers; Ryan Bros., sensational gymnasts, and special Kinemacolor pictures. Saturday afternoon, toys will be given free to every boy and girl attending the matinee. Children under 12 years of age will be admitted for five cents. The new show opening next week will have six acts with two topliners.

USING OLD HATS.

Did you ever know that your old hats could be converted into work baskets; also to bags? The crown of an old hat makes a good foundation for a bag, having stability enough to withstand being picked into holes and not worn out easily.

Cover it with some pretty material and it will look like some flimsy bag, while actually it will be as substantial as one made of leather.

More interesting even to fashion is the work basket made of an old straw hat. Tear off the brim, line inside of the crown with silk and bind it around the top edges and finish in any way your fancy and ingenuity may suggest.

The Leghorn hat, turned upside down and supplied with a ribbon handle, makes a pretty basket to use when gathering flowers, or a holder for various articles, which may be hung up.

Such bags and baskets may be made into acceptable articles for sale at the various fairs and bazars of the winter season.

Spring Costumes Have No Sleeves

MAYBELLE MORTIMER'S FASHION TIP TODAY:

For the first time in some years we are going to wear sleeves of a different color from the dress during the spring season.

The costume shown is of black taffeta, made with a peg-top skirt and plain sleeveless waist. Over it is a fitted waist and yoke of heavy macreme lace. Thin white lawn sleeves and vest make this gown a most fashionable one.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON WEDS GIRL HE COURTED 7 YEARS DESPITE PARENTS.

MRS. LIONEL BARNESON.

San Francisco, Jan. 22.—She was the daughter of the village blacksmith. He the son of a mult-millionaire and heir to his father's millions made in oil. When Captain Barneson heard that his son, Lionel, was paying too much attention to Hazel Hammerson, of Redwood City, where they attended school, he shipped him on a world tour. That was seven years ago.

But young Barneson and his sweetheart kept in communication by mail, cable and wireless. A few days ago they slipped away to a country town and were married. There was parental forgiveness and now Barneson and his bride will reside in Los Angeles, where he will be in charge of his father's business.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't working right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Adv.

MONROEVILLE NEWS.

Monroeville, Ind., Jan. 23.—Mrs. Geo Baker and daughter, of Fort Wayne, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krick.

Mrs. C. M. Hollopeter is laid up with an attack of erysipelas.

John Gooden was confined to his home part of the week, but is able to be out again.

John and Gottlieb Luenberger left Thursday for a three months' visit with relatives at Clay Center, Fla.

Lewis Hoffman and C. W. Purman have purchased Ford machines through the Luenberger agency.

Fred Hockelmeyer, of Madison township, has sold one of his farms to his son, F. C. Hockelmeyer.

Dr. Drayer, of Fort Wayne, was called Thursday in consultation on the case of Mrs. J. D. Freidline. Mrs. Freidline was also reported some better Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Davis entertained the "Jolly Bunch of Twelve" at progressive euchre Friday evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. J. A. Schaab and Mrs. D. C. Purman. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Schaab, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Purman, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mehls, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Peihl, J. J. Peters and Miss Laura Peters.

Yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at his home in Monroeville occurred the death of Joseph Lewis after an illness of several months. He was born in Tuscarawas county, Ohio, April 21, 1841. Was son of Jonathan and Nancy Tumbleson Lewis. Enlisted for the civil war at Plymouth, Richland county, Ohio, in 1862 at the age of 21 years, in Company K, Forty-fifth O. V. I., which was attached to the Third brigade division, Fourth A. C., and with his regiment took part in the siege at Knoxville and received a gunshot wound in the face. Was sent to the hospital at Knoxville where he remained under treatment three months. He was afterward captured by Gen. Longstreet's command but was held only three days and was detailed on duty at the medical directors headquarters until discharged in July, 1865. He was a member of Wm. H. Link post, No. 301, G. A. R. He was united in marriage to Amanda Brown at Shelby, O., in 1865. Five children were born to this union and all but one survive, namely: Mrs. Virgie Niezer and Mrs. Lon Cullen, of this place; Mrs. Nannie Jones, of Colorado, and Mrs. Alta Southworth, of South Bend. Also he leaves to mourn his loss his wife, two brothers, W. E. Lewis, of Fort Wayne, and J. T. Lewis, of Mulhall, Okla., and two sisters, Mrs. Maggie Heddger, of Hooker, Okla., and Mrs. Mary Price, of Butler, Ind. He joined the M. E. church of Shelby county, Ohio, when quite young and was also a faithful member of the M. E. church at this place. The deceased was past 72 years of age and had made his home here for many years, being in business here until he retired a few years ago.

MUST REMODEL SALOONS.

Many South Bend Keepers Ordered to Remove Screens.

South Bend, Jan. 23.—Thirty-nine saloons in South Bend must be remodeled to conform to the Nicholson law. Orders to this effect have been given to the owners of the saloons by Chief of Police Millard F. Kerr, who summoned the proprietors to his office to hear the reading of the ultimatum. Stained glass, high windows, screens and location of bar are among the things taken into account. According to the administration's orders the bar to a saloon must be left in full view of the street. Stained glass, plants or picture posters, anything that obstructs the view are under the ban to that end. Likewise the screens that ordinarily separate the front lobby from the bar room. This openness applies while the saloon is supposed to be closed nights, holidays and Sundays.

CONGRESS IS TO ASSIST INDIANS

Will Build Hospitals for Battling the Dread Tuberculosis.

TO SPEND $400,000

Washington, Jan. 23.—At least $400,000 will be appropriated by congress at this session to check the toll of death that is being exacted of the American Indian through the ravages of tuberculosis and trachoma. The house committeen on Indian affairs, it is learned, has inserted in the Indian appropriation bill items aggregating that sum for the express purpose of building hospitals and conducting a sanitary campaign among the aborigines of the United States.

This is the first time that it has even proposed to appropriate such a large sum. There is little likelihood that either house or senate will object to the program that has been mapped out by the Indian affairs committee. This generosity is due, it was said, in a large measure to the persistent campaign made by friends of the Indians for their relief.

The movement was aided in a large degree by the recent report of the joint committee of congress which told in most picturesque language the conditions prevailing on the big reservations and the handicaps under which the Indians live. Many of the important recommendations of the committee will be put into force by the forthcoming bill, which has just been sent to the printer and will be reported to the house within the next week or two.

The report of the committee showed that on some of the reservations more than 25 per cent. of the Indians were affected with tuberculosis, the great growth of the disease being attributed to the changed methods of living adopted by the Indians and their lack of outdoor life, to which they have been accustomed for centuries. For the year ending June 30, 1912, the commission's statistics showed that out of 190,791 Indians living upon the reservations, approximately 26,500 were estimated to have tuberculosis and 32 per cent. of the whole number of deaths was attributed to this disease.

DR. PAGEL GIVES $5,000 BOND.

Greensburg, Ind., Jan. 23.—While his lawyers were preparing a motion for a new trial, Dr. Charles W. Pagel, convicted of fraudulent land deals by a jury in the circuit court, will enjoy his liberty. Dr. Pagel furnished a $5,000 bond. His attorneys filed a motion for an arrest of judgment and the court overruled it. Pagel was then ordered to furnish bond or go to jail. His attorneys will ask for a new trial and if they fail in this, they will seek an appeal to a higher court. Other defendants in the ("blue sky") cases will be tried probably not before spring.

HEN LAYS EGG ON SKEET CAR TO PAY "BUSTED" OWNER'S FARE.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Jan. 23.—"Don't count your eggs before they're laid," is a new way of phrasing the old admonition. Still, the experience of Weston Wood, of this city, shows that sometimes, when you are counting on them least, the eggs really are laid at the psychological moment.

Wood had bought a hen and hopped on a car to escort Biddy home. When the conductor, in his aggressive advance, reached Wood and demanded "fare!" Wood discovered that the nickel in the change pocket wasn't there. He searched in vain. The conductor grew gruff and threatening. Wood saw before him ignominious ejection and a five-mile walk.

Then the hen cackled. The tone was unmistakable. Wood raised the lid and grasped a new-laid egg! "Sure," said the conductor, "a fresh egg is good for a five-cent fare any day. New-laid eggs are scarcer than nickels."

FIRE ALL IN MAN'S POCKET.

Quick-Witted Policeman Averts Possible Theater Panic.

Wilmington, Del., Jan. 23. By his forethought Patrolman Frank Massey averted what might have developed into a serious panic in the Savoy theater, a moving picture house, the other night. He was standing in the rear of the theater when he saw a young man walking down the aisle with smoke issuing from his coat. The policeman followed him, whispered that he wanted to see him outside immediately and led him to the street. Outside Patrolman Massey told the young man his clothing was on fire and he opened his overcoat to find that a portion of his undercoat had been burned away and that the fire was eating its way through his vest. Matches in his pocket had ignited.

Bit Husband Who Was Choking Her—Woman Given Decree.

Reno, Nev., Jan. 23. Mrs. Hildur Agnes Marie Host, a model for two embroidery houses of New York, was granted a divorce here a few days ago from Dilles Alfred Host, upon the ground of cruelty.

Mrs. Host testified she owes her life to her little pet dog, which bit her husband when the latter locked her in a room, threw her out the bad and was strangling her to death in violent anger because she insisted upon holding her business position to obtain the needed money for living expenses, which her husband did not provide.

WHITE STARS TO PLAY NEXT GAME

Saints Looked Better and Miller Will Help Club Greatly.

BEAT TRI-STATE MEN

St. Mary's Athletic club basket ball team has booked the Lima White Stars for its show next week and patrons of the game will have an opportunity to judge whether or not the presence of Miller on the team will serve to overcome the awful weakness displayed at the baskets by the Saints' flying squadron.

A victory over Tri-State Normal last night by a score of 55 to 21 and the fact that Miller scored a dozen of the points on field goals and four on free throws indicates that he will become a very useful member of the combination when it is considered that it was the first time he had played in a regular game with the other members of the club, and that he was laboring under the handicap that always besets a new player of whom a whole lot is expected.

However, the Tri-Staters are apparently not of the caliber to try the metal of any first-class club. All of the players are willing mixers and fairly strong in the defense but their passing is below standard and their shooting bad.

Rough house methods were in evidence right from the tap-off and when the Saints saw the brand of ball they were up against they dealt out a line of limb-breaking ball that indicated an ability to take care of themselves in any sort of going.

Fandom screached and howled and applauded and hinted very broadly that the brand of basket ball designed to necessitate the presence of a corps of Red Cross nurses and fraught with the possibility of slow music and flowers is what is wanted and it was surely put on exhibition last night.

Eckrich most split the basket-shooting honors with Miller, landing five in the course of the proceeding, and the whole team put up a better article than it has had on display for some time.

A. A. Rinehart, of the athletic board in charge of basket ball, believes that the movement to start games promptly and do away with half the useless practice would serve to attract more people to the games.

He is in favor of starting the preliminary at 7:30 o'clock promptly, allowing an hour to complete, permit practice for ten minutes before the big game, and start it promptly at 8:40 o'clock. Of course, the players carded for the chief combat could work between the periods of the preliminary if they desired.

Something is needed to stimulate interest in the sport and it is believed that this one element will aid the club in attracting patronage. Baseball magnates for years devoted their time to securing umpires who are able to start contests promptly at the hour designated and keep it going without delays. Baseball has been the most successful athletic amusement ever served to the public and its experiences serve as a good example for any other sport that is making a bid for popularity.

The line-up and score last night follows:

Angola, 21.		St. Mary's, 35.
Martin	R. F.	Haffner-Miller
Schellenberger	L. F.	McArdle
Hurd	C.	Miller-Berghoff
Keys	R. G.	Eckrich
Hershey	L. G.	Hoffman

Field goals—Martin 3, Schellenberger 2, Hershey 1, McArdle 2, Miller 6, Berghoff 1, Eckrich 5. Goals on free throws—Martin 3, Miller 4, Hoffman 1.

For an entirely home affair the preliminary between the Iroquois team and the Precious Blood quintet was rough in spots. The youngsters went at each other in true professional style, and although their blocking methods endangered life and limb, they didn't seem to care, and in one instance a pair of players had squared off for a boxing match when interference stopped them.

The Precious Blood crowd was woefully weak in basket shooting, and although the club is willing to rough it with any team, and is made up of hard workers, its average in shooting was not good. The final score was 20 to 4 in favor of the Iroquois. Line-up and summary:

Iroquois—Goetz and Alter, forwards; Ehrman, center; Beck and Becker, guards.

Precious Blood Seconds—C. Huebner, Simolton and A. Degitz, forwards; Kelly, center; Stout, Kraft and Staff, guards.

Field goals—Ehrman 12, Goetz 5, Becker, Alter 3, Beck 1, Simolton 2, Huebner 1, Kraft 1.

SHARP RETURNS HOME.

Says New Revenue Collector Don't Want Disorganization.

Deputy Revenue Collector L. P. Sharp returned Thursday night from Indianapolis, where he went last Sunday to be present at the ceremonies attending the inauguration of the new collector, Peter J. Kruyer.

The new collector told Mr. Sharp that it was his desire to retain all the efficient men in this district. He stated that he did not want to disrupt the organization of the revenue department in the state, and while he does not promise to retain the present deputies throughout his entire term, he wants the efficient men to keep at their posts.

STOPHER TO TRY FOR CENTER JOB

Harlan Player Wants Place With Friars and is to Get Chance.

TICKETS ALL SOLD

Stopher, center on the Harlan basket ball club, wants to try out with the Friar combination and he has been ordered by Manager Charley Pask to report for duty tonight and he may be seen in action against the Zanesville team in the game at Library hall.

Hill, member of the Company D club at Ada, O., will be on hand and also will be given a chance to show his worth and the man that makes the best impression is the fellow that will succeed Fitch, who is on the hospital list, and who may not be in condition to play again this season.

Efforts to secure Hill came mighty near causing a riot. The line-up of the club had been supplied by the Friars to the Zanesville management, and Hill was not included, so there was the device to play when it was ascertained he would enter the lists.

Zanesville's team members and supporters said they'd be dorgoned if he would be allowed to play, and Mr. Pask had to evolve a bit of diplomacy that finally registered with the opposition. As a matter of fact the Friars have been after Hill all season but he could not arrange to come here for practice twice a week and play with Ada so he gave up the idea.

Later he arranged his affairs so he could play on Friday nights, and as the club as it is constituted now is made up of old heads, one practice night a week is all that is necessary, and unless Stopher beats him to it, he will probably be the regular center for the club.

Stopher comes with the reputation of being a pretty nifty player, and he may give the Ada man a hard run for the place as he is so situated that he can be called out at any time and at very little expense.

In the game tonight the county of Allen, state of Indiana, will be lined up against the great city of Fort Wayne. Zanesville holds all of the basket ball prestige in the county outside the corporate limits of the municipality and this fact has attracted a number of people who will come tonight for the express purpose of rooting.

A lot of the lads, lassies and older folk who expect to attend have cultivated their voices out in the open where volume and range count, and they do not need megaphones, cowbells or any other instruments of torture to make themselves heard.

All of the reserved seats have been sold and it is certain that the seating capacity will be fully taxed. Then there is another element that enters into the battle Zanesville has walloped Concordia twice and St. Mary's Athletics once, and if it can down the Friars it will be the hardest ball aggregation of this section of the country.

The three victories right in the heart of the big city over two clubs that are rated as first division propositions has inspired a lot of confidence in the Zanesville circles and this will show in the game tonight.

Jacobs and Crow, the giant center of the Zanesville club, are the two men the Friars will try to keep under cover, but it takes a whole club to hold these players down, and it will be found a hard task.

Manager Pask has fallen in with the idea of starting games promptly. The preliminary will be between the Bearcats and Scratchcats and will begin promptly at 7:45. Half an hour will be devoted to this cruel warfare, and then the big game will be launched at 8:30.

PREPARING FOR THE INVASION.

Association Magnates Getting Ready to Meet Federal League Coming Season.

Chicago, Jan. 23. Measures relating to the invasion of their field by the Federal league may be taken up at today's meeting of owners and managers of the American association, who are here to select a committee to prepare the league's 1914 playing schedule. The formal meeting of the association was to have been held yesterday but was postponed because of the absence of Mike Cantillon, of the Minneapolis club. Cantillon was reported at Federal league headquarters making over a lease for a baseball park site to the Chicago club of that organization. A plan to strengthen the Kansas City and Indianapolis teams, in whose fields the Federals will have clubs, was said to have been informally discussed yesterday.

James Galloway, an infielder, signed with Indianapolis yesterday, and Leo Murphy, a young catcher, was signed by the Columbus club.

James Shackard, the former Chicago Cub player, is expected to sign as manager of the Toledo club today.

CHAMPIONS FAVOR SUMMER BALL.

Think Students Right to Be Allowed to Play and to Get Paid for It.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 23.—That summer baseball should be allowed college athletes as a means for earning their living as well as a sport and to keep them in practice, is the concensus of opinion of college champions whose views have been gathered by the Yale News.

Capt. John T. Blossom, of Yale, favors summer baseball and says it is bound to come.

Bernard Rhoades the Princeton captain, writes that he fails to see any reason why a college player would not turn that ability to good account. "I cannot see why a man whose talent runs to baseball should not help himself through college by using that talent just as well as a man whose abilities are more scholastic and who earns money by tutoring."

C. C. Porter, captain of Johns Hopkins, and J. L. Vaiden, captain of the navy, also wrote in favor of summer baseball.

Plans are under way at the Concordia college for a proposed celebration next December in commemoration of the day when Concordia college was opened in Perry county, Missouri, in a small log cabin seventy-five years ago. The college was removed to this city in 1861.

UNLESS THERE IS ANOTHER POSTPONEMENT MURPHY WILL GET CHANCE AFTER WAITING FOURTEEN YEARS.

(Staff Special.)

San Francisco, Jan. 23. Willie Ritchie and Harlem Tommy Murphy are scheduled to battle for the lightweight championship of the world in April, and if the boys finally get together one of the fastest lightweight battles in years is expected to result.

It will give the little old man of the ring, as Murphy is called after fourteen years' service as a gloveman, who has seen three champions come and go without getting a whack at the title, a chance at last to gain the highest honors in his division.

When these boys were matched for the first fight that did not take place because of an abscess in Ritchie's nose, the champion was made a 10 to 8 favorite, but a much shorter price is expected if they ever get together, because of the growing belief that Ritchie has no stomach for this fight. Despite the fact that he has every natural advantage over the Harlem boy, many local followers of the game are firmly of the opinion that Ritchie would rather meet any lightweight in the world than Murphy.

As the articles call for 135 pounds one hour before the fight, Ritchie will have a decided advantage in the weight. He also is taller, has a longer reach, is seven years younger, can hit harder and is fully as scientific as his coming opponent.

If Murphy wins it will be because he had the champion's goat and not that he is the better man.

ERIE HOPES FOR REAL BALL TEAM

Matter of $600 is to Be Taken Care of to Insure Control.

WORKING ON PROBLEM

Erie, Pa., Jan. 23.—Broad strides toward the solution of Erie's baseball problem were taken at a meeting of directors and stockholders of the Erie Exhibition company in the reception at the Hotel Reed last night when plans were devised whereby control of the situation can be retained by the fans of Erie. While it was the purpose of the meeting to determine what move should be made to include Erie in either the Canadian or New York State leagues, the question of retaining control of the local baseball situation was found to be of far more importance.

In view of this fact efforts of the stockholders and directors of the exhibition company were concentrated on the problem of liquidating $600 indebtedness held against the company by Roth and Mertens for the rental of Perry field last season.

The difficulties which attended the unexpected termination of the local season of 1913 have developed conditions which do not look particularly rosy at this time. Roth and Mertens have demanded payment of the debt and in a communication to President Thomas J. O'Connor gave only a few days to have the matter settled or the Erie Exhibition company will close the lease on the grounds.

Thus, the matter sifts down to the fact that the owners of Perry field control the destinies of baseball in Erie, and are to be dealt with first. A committee composed of Mr. O'Connor, R. H. Howell and Charles Strick, was appointed to wait upon the owners of the park to see if the time in which the debt may be wiped out can be extended. They will be asked to wait until Feb. 15 for their money.

In the meantime the directors of the exhibition company will make complete inquiry into the situation in the New York State league and the Canadian league. George O'Neill, owner of the Canadian league franchise, will be in the city to confer with the stockholders of the exhibition company with regard to his proposition and Samuel Y. Rossiter, who represents a number of the men who are anxious for Erie to become a member of the New York State league will, the latter part of the week, attend a conference of the York Staters at Wilkesbarre. He will make a report immediately upon his return home.

INSTALL OFFICERS.

Modern Woodmen Hold Well Attended Business Meeting.

Three hundred members and friends attended a public installation of officers at a meeting of Edward Camp No. 3127, Modern Woodmen of America, held Thursday night at the I. O. O. F. hall. The new officers are:

W. H. Heine, consul; Frank Schanneberger, worthy advisor; W. J. Fells, banker; S. L. Wass, clerk; Robert Davis, escort, Joe Michiels, trustee; Charles Bowser, watchman, and Walter Lee, sentry.

The Concordia college will soon receive another improvement by the installation of sanitary drinking fountains.

NOTES OF BASKET BALL.

Concordia has booked Wabash Athletic club for tomorrow night instead of the Winona Aggies. Illness among the members of the Winona club forced Coach Laug Scott to cancel and for a time it was thought that St. Paul would be substituted.

However, a booking with Wabash was secured and the St. Paul idea abandoned for the present. It has been two weeks since the Concordia boys staged a game, but gymnasium work has been kept up and the players will go into the argument in good condition.

* * *

In the preliminary for this big event the Turner Bears will mix with the Concordia Seconds. With improved heating and seating facilities and a good floor, Concordia patrons are more comfortable and are getting a better class of play than they used to get.

The Tiger Juniors defeated the Westminster team by a score of 18 to 17 in a game filled with good shooting and exciting play.

* * *

Managers of all basket ball teams in the city, excepting the Friars, St. Mary's, St. Paul's and the Turners are asked to send the names and addresses of their managers to the sporting editor of The Sentinel.

* * *

Fort Wayne high school will take another shy at the game when it meets Marion at Marion tonight. The club will leave over the interurban at 4 o'clock and will return tonight. The players expect to break the run of defeats they have sustained this year in spite of the fact that they are booked to meet a team with a good reputation.

* * *

In a game last night the T. C. C. club lost to the Mohawks by a score of 25 to 22. Line-up and summary:

Mohawks—Weber and Kirkland, forwards; Schilling, center; Ball and Woenker, guards.

T. C. C.—Wilkison and Popp, forwards; Myers, center; Clemens and Geller, guards.

Field goals—Kirkland, 5; Weber, 3; Woenker, 1; Schilling, 3; Popp, 2; Myers, 8; Clemens, 1. Goals on free throws—Popp, 1; Schilling, 1.

PAY NEARLY $2,000,000.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Terms of the ninety-nine year lease which the Chicago Federal league club yesterday took on north side property where the clubs' baseball park will be built, call for a total payment of nearly $2,000,000, according to the lessees.

The contract calls for the payment of $16,000 annually for the first ten years, $18,000 annually for the second ten years, and $20,000 annually for the remaining seventy-nine years.

OLD FORT WAYNE PLAYER IS DONE

Joe Rickert Quits Base Ball After Long Time on Diamond

WITH GEORGE TEBEAU

New Orleans, Jan. 23.—Joseph Rickert, one of Springfield's (Ohio) most famous players at one time, who is more familiarly known to the followers of the baseball field as "Diamond Joe" Rickert, has retired from the national pastime and is now the boss of a cafe and cabaret. Rickert began as a professional in 1895 with the Warren (Pa.) team, and among those playing on this club was the great Honus Wagner, the shortstop of the Pittsburg National league club. In the following year Joe went to the Fort Wayne team, which was managed by George Tebeau. He remained one year with this club and the following year he was seen with the Youngstown team. Eighteen and ninety-eight saw him playing with the Newcastle club, in the Interstate league, from which club he was sold to the Pittsburg National league club. He next went to the Worcester team, in the Eastern league, where he played during the seasons of 1899 and 1900. He was sold to the Boston National league club in 1901, and at the middle of the season was returned to the Worcester team, playing there during the seasons of 1902 and part of 1903. In June of 1903 he joined the local club, where he remained during the years 1903-04. In 1905 he was with the Kansas City club and returned to the locals in 1906 and remained in the years of 1907 and 1908. During the years 1909-10-11-12 he saw service in the South Atlantic and Western league, and in 1913 he remained in the city. It was just the other day that he received a most flattering offer from the Richmond (Va.) league club, but turned the offer down and will retire from the diamond after seeing service for more than sixteen years.

Two of Rickert's stunts that brought him notoriety were pulled off in the year 1903, one of them in Shreveport, La., when he ran into the bleachers, scaling the low fence and caught a fly. His next stunt was to scale a ladder at the old Athletic park in the city, catching a fly and doubling up Frank Smith, who had tried to score from third base.

Rickert also gained some fame when the local team was playing a doubleheader with the Montgomery Southern league team at Athletic park, when in the last half of the second game he opened the gate leading to the grandstand and prevented further playing because the crowd swarmed on the field. Joe was suspended but he was later allowed to play, the charges failing to hold against him.

Rickert knocked two home runs in a game at Pelican park on one occasion.

HIGH AND NORMAL TO PLAY.

Girls Will Battle for Second Time at Smart School Building Tonight.

At the James H. Smart school gymnasium the girls of the Lakeside normal and the Fort Wayne high school will do battle tonight for the second time this season. Since their first appearance the normal team has had the advantage of more practice and expects to make a better showing than in the opener. There has been a big sale of tickets for the game and great interest is being manifested.

CHARGES MURPHY CAUSED TROUBLE

Frank Chance Says Cub Owner is Responsible for Federal.

RELATES HIS STORY

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 23.—"Charles W. Murphy is responsible for the organization of the Federal league. The president of the Chicago National league club is to blame for the large number of major league baseball players who are jumping to the outlaw organization."

These statements were made today by Frank Chance, manager of the New York American league club, and formerly manager of the Chicago Cubs.

"Charles Murphy," said Chance, "has done more to hurt baseball than any other man who has been in the game in all the years the sport has flourished. He is going to continue to be an objectionable figure just so long as he is allowed to have any connection with any club.

"A lot of my friends said I was crazy two years ago when I sold my stock in the Chicago National league club. I happened to know a few things that they didn't know. That is why I sold out and got as far away from Murphy as possible.

"Here is a little secret that shows why I was able to hold Murphy in restraint as long as I did without an open rupture. I had two contracts with Murphy. One was to play first base. The other was to manage the team.

"Charles Weeghman, one of the backers of the Chicago Federal league club, was for years an ardent Cub rooter. He soured on Murphy just as thousands of other patrons of the Cubs' park. This is the way Murphy handles ball players: When Evers was in poor health one spring Murphy found out that he would not be able to play the entire season. He wired me while the team was in Pittsburg saying that he did not believe Evers should draw his pay for that season. I would not stand for giving Evers a raw deal of that sort and Johnny got every dollar of his salary for the season. He only played a few games. Brown and Tinker, who have both gone to the Federal league, were badly treated by Murphy."

TAX BLANKS ARE HERE.

Fort Wayne's first consignment of income tax blanks reached the office of Deputy Revenue Collector L. P. Sharp Thursday afternoon and will be distributed within a few days. Several thousand blanks are in the first consignment.

GILBERT HAD NO CHANCE AT TOTS

Hendricks Considered Him Too Valuable and Would Not Sell.

PRESIDENT IS BACK

Rufus ("Lefty") Gilbert never had a chance to get away from the Denver club to become manager at Terre Haute, as Jack Hendricks regarded him as too useful a pitcher to give up when he has the team on the market or at any other time for that matter.

This information was brought back from Chicago today by President Louis Heilbroner, of the Central league, who spent a couple of days at the American association meeting.

Gilbert is not the best minor league pitcher in the country but he is a hard worker, and when he is right he is hard to beat. These facts prompted Hendricks to retain him and he never entertained a serious thought of selling his release.

The announcement that Larry Quinlan has been secured by A. W. Wagner to take charge this year is particularly pleasing to the president as the new pilot is a man of experience and a good player and a good man to have in the league.

In the meantime Gilbert had a good thing of it in Terre Haute this winter. He was employed to secure fence advertising for the ball park and advertising for the score card and he picked up a neat little sum while he was at the work, and has lost nothing.

This work took him to the Terre Haute club's office, and as there was no one there to interfere with him, he simply took charge and opened negotiations for his release with the announcement that if he could obtain it he would be the Tot leader.

President Heilbroner said the Federal league is not reaching out into class B yet, and that he will not worry about it until it does.

Owner Claude H. Varnell, who expected to stay here and send out his contracts today, was called back to Wheeling last night.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

FIND ELOPING PREACHER.

Rev. Mason of Corunna Located in Small Town in Pennsylvania.

Auburn, Ind., Jan. 23.—Just as soon as the warrant was placed in his hands for service Sheriff Hoff started the legal machinery going to locate Rev. Mason, late of Corunna, who is wanted in DeKalb county on the charge of wife desertion and abandoning his three children.

The aid of the police department at Erie, Pa., where he was first apprehended and released, was asked to assist and a telegram reached here from the Erie chief of police that Mason had gone to Cochrauton, Pa., a small town in Crawford county, in that state where he had gone into the piano business. It was only a short time until Sheriff Hoff was in communication with the sheriff of Crawford county at Meadville and officers were sent Thursday to arrest Mason as a fugitive from justice. The requisition papers are being prepared and if the unfrocked preacher refuses to come he will be forced to return, in irons, if necessary, to answer to the charge against him.

BIGAMIST PLEADS GUILTY.

Van Wert, O., Jan. 23.—Otis Bailey, charged with bigamy, pleaded guilty here and was sentenced to the reformatory at Mansfield for an indefinite term. Bailey, whose age is 26 years, recently surrendered to the authorities and confessed that he had been twice married unlawfully and that in addition he had perjured himself by making a false statement to procure a license in the Van Wert probate court by swearing that he had never been married. Bailey's first wife was Letha Rothridge, of Hudson, Mich., to whom he was wedded in November, 1912, and his second wife was Florence Case, of Willshire township, to whom he was married in July, 1913. Bailey gave himself up in Fort Wayne.

SAFE ROBBERS IN VAN WERT.

Van Wert, Ohio, Jan. 23.—The elevator office of Brandt & Gilliland, on North Market street, was entered at night by persons unknown at this time, who secured $45 for their trouble. They gained entrance by breaking a window pane, which enabled them to reach a catch and raise the window. Having once entered the building the balance was easy, as the criminals seemed to have an intimate acquaintance with the office and opening the safe by manipulating the combination was a simple matter. Chief of Police Jackson is working on the case, and it is thought probable that arrests will be made soon, as it is believed that local talent did the job.

DEATH OF BLUFFTON WOMAN.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 23.—Mrs. Josephine Stout, wife of Fire Chief Lemuel Stout, died suddenly at her home on West Wiley avenue. Her death was due to an affection of the heart, which was a result of uraemic poisoning, from which she had been suffering for two weeks past.

Mrs. Stout was a native of Wells county and was born here on April 14, 1859, the daughter of Charles and Mary Rowe, members of one of the county's pioneer families. Mrs. Stout was reared in this county and on December 22, 1879, she was united in marriage to Lemuel Stout. They spent almost their entire married life in Bluffton. Mr. Stout survives with five children.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED.

Goshen, Ind., Jan. 23.—John R. Hess, 60, a native of Elkhart county and very well known as a farmer, was found dead in bed at 6 o'clock in the morning by his wife at their home in Harrison township, seven miles west of Goshen. Mr. Hess' demise was due to an ailment of the heart. He had been in excellent health and last evening after eating a hearty supper retired at the usual hour. Death probably came soon after midnight, but discovery was not made until Mrs. Hess arose in the morning. Mr. Hess was a son of Jacob Hess, a pioneer of the county and who has been dead for several years.

HELP FOR STRICKEN FAMILY.

Hicksville, Ohio, Jan. 23.—Substantial sympathy is being extended the Daniel Neidhardt family, so sorely afflicted with typhoid fever. Financial assistance that will exceed $600, it is thought, is being provided by neighbors and friends. There are six cases of the dreaded malady in the home—two sons and two daughters and Mrs. Etta Enzor and her daughter. Two nurses are assisting the doctors in keeping the grim reaper away. Despite the awful onslaught of the disease, but one death has occurred—that of a son, a week ago.

SUCCESSOR TO MISS LANKENAU.

Decatur, Ind., Jan. 23.—The city school board has named Miss Lulu Atz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Atz, as the teacher to succeed Miss Lulu Lankenau at the South Ward school. Miss Atz will begin duty February 2. Miss Lankenau has resigned to accept a position as teacher of German in the grades in the Fort Wayne public schools. Miss Atz has been the supply teacher for the Decatur schools for the present year and was in the direct line of succession to any vacancy.

BRUTE IS SENTENCED.

Albion, Ind., Jan. 23. Charged with a felonious assault, Edward Eby, of Ligonier, pleaded guilty in the Noble circuit court before Judge Luke H. Wrigley, and was sentenced to the state penitentiary to serve from two to fourteen years. Miss Moore, of near Albion, was the complaining witness. Eby is a well known man of this county. Attorney M. H. Spangler prosecuted the case, and after hearing the charge Eby pleaded guilty and very little evidence for him was introduced.

DIES AT AGE OF 85 YEARS.

Hoagland, Ind., Jan. 23.—Mrs. Henry Hoppe, one of the pioneer residents of near Hoagland, is dead at the home of her son, Fred, a mile and a half south of Hoagland. Mrs. Hoppe was 85 years old and was one of the oldest residents of the community. Death was caused by pneumonia. Mrs. Hoppe was a widow and made her home with her son. Six children survive.

BEING OFFERED FOR SALE.

Portland, Ind., Jan. 23.—A total of 221 properties in Jay county are being offered for sale by John B. Ropp, county treasurer, because of unpaid taxes. The sale has been set for February 9. In Portland fifty-one properties are included in the list, while Dunkirk has seventy-two. The taxes range from 43 cents up to $345.66.

WARNING TO TOBACCONISTS.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 23.—A warning has been issued here to tobacco dealers against the sale of tobacco to persons under 16 years of age, and also the sale of cigarettes to minors.

The following members of the C. B. L. of L. were installed Wednesday night at the St. Joseph's Catholic school by Thomas McLaughlin: Kate Ulerich, president; Charles Miller, vice president; Rev. J. F. Kohl, orator and chaplain; Miss Irene McKenzie, secretary; Miss Martha Adang, treasurer; Mary Voris, collector; Edwin Garty, marshal; Tom Perry, inner guard; Marie Ulerich, outer guard; organist, Marie Ulerich; Edwin Garty, Marie Miller and Christine Adang, trustees. After the services Orator Father Kohl delivered an excellent address, after which refreshments were served.

The cases against Brice Beeching, Jay Wilkerson and Nile Schrader, charged with hunting without a license, which was to have been heard Friday afternoon in Squire Garty's court, has been venued to the court of Squire Elder, to be heard next Wednesday. Wilkerson lives at Fort Wayne.

The directors of the Larwill bank met Wednesday afternoon and made a survey of the business of the past year. Elmer Gandy, of Churubusco, was reelected vice president; Clinton Wilcox, of Columbia City, vice president, and Alfred Young, of Larwill, cashier and general manager. The officers of the bank are directors and the other directors, Benton E. Gates, John Mowrey and Oliver S. Torbet, of Columbia City, were re-elected.

The Hebrew Ladies' Benevolent society members were royally entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mose Strouse. Miss Mae Meyer won the prize for "500."

Mrs. C. F. Holtzendorff, of Plymouth, who will be remembered here as Miss Emma Gallagher, formerly a school teacher in the schools, returned to her home Thursday after a visit with Mrs. Bert McNear.

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Harrison left Thursday morning for Argos to visit with the family of William Harrison.

Four and one-half years ago bees invaded the home of William D. Koch, of Jefferson township, making their home between the siding and plastering, entering in the second story of the home. Wednesday Mr. Koch took advantage of the cold weather, and with assistance, relieved the buzzers of about 175 pounds of their four and one-half years' efforts, requiring the pressing need of two big washtubs.

The three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leer is quite ill with lung fever.

William Grawcock, of Cleveland township, left Thursday morning for Kimmell to attend the funeral of his cousin, Frank Baughman, who died Wednesday.

Twenty friends of Jacob Plattner were feasted upon chicken and wild duck at the Plattner home Wednesday night.

CRITICISES INDIANA MILITIA.

War Department Report Says Many Companies Are Poorly Trained.

Washington, Janl 23.—The chief of the division of military affairs in the war department, in its annual report, declares that the Indiana militiamen are poorly instructed in their armories. Exceptions are made in the cases of the hospital corps and Battery A, at Indianapolis; the signal corps, at Indianapolis; Company H, at Warsaw, and Company I, at Plymouth.

DOGS IN BERLIN ARE FEWER.

Cost of Living and High Taxes on Canines Given as Some of Reasons.

Berlin, Jan. 22.—The canine population of Berlin is decreasing steadily. From 39,926 in 1909, the number of dogs in the city had dropped to 34,443 last year, according to tax statistics just issued, and an even greater decrease is estimated for this year. The increasingly high cost of living, which makes the saving of a tax of $7.50 yearly a big item to poor families, is undoubtedly one explanation for the decrease. A further factor this year is the dog quarantine law, which has kept the animals muzzled and on leading strings for several months.

There are 6,740 tax-free dogs in the city. Eighty of these are owned by the emperor and by the ambassadors and ministers of foreign nations. There are 1,174 draft dogs exempt from tax.

PLEADS GUILTY; GOES TO JAIL.

Marion, Ind., Jan. 22.—Dr. A. A. Shanahan pleaded guilty to selling morphine to those addicted to use and was fined $25 and sentenced to ninety days in jail. His arrest was the result of activity by police of this city and Muncie, who learned from young men and boys in those cities and in Alexandria that they had obtained the drug from Shanahan, who had an office in West Marion. James Townson, drug clerk in a store at Home Corner, was fined $50 and costs for selling liquor without a license. Judge Paulus also overruled motions for appeals in the cases of Lafe Kennedy, John Eltzroth and "Rhoda" Rhoadhamel, fined on blind tiger charges, and they must serve jail sentences.

"CASCARETS" IF CONSTIPATED, SICK, HEADACHY, BILIOUS—DIME A BOX

Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, constipation, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight with Cascarets.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets sweeten and regulate your stomach; remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and that misery-making gas; takes the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and constipation poison from the bowels. Then you feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and make you feel fully and cheerful for months. Don't forget the children.

CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP.

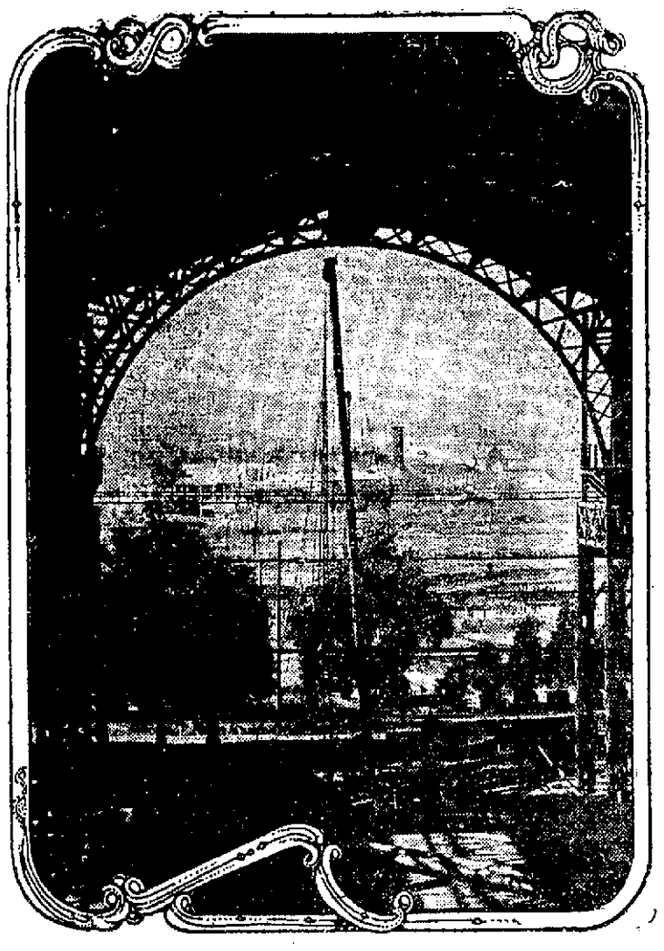
Huge Exposition Palaces Fast Nearing Completion In San Francisco.



Copyright, 1913, by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

VIEW from one of the transverse arcades of the Palace of Education at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, looking toward the United States Presidio military reservation. The Presidio adjoins the Exposition grounds and offers wonderful opportunities for the great international drill contests that will be held by the troops of all nations in 1915. In the center of the photograph are shown some of the rare trees which will be set out upon the Exposition grounds and courts.

This Will Revive A Faded Complexion

Many Winter complexion-troubles could be avoided if a plain mayatone lotion were used instead of greasy creams or injurious face powders. This lotion can be made by dissolving an original package of mayatone in one-half pint witch hazel. Apply after cleansing and drying the skin and rub lightly until it dries and you will be delighted with the result. The mayatone lotion is especially fine for pimples, blackheads and rough, faded skin, and restores the youth-tint to the faded complexion.

CURED OF ECZEMA

Of 23 Years Standing

"I had a very annoying case of eczema for 23 years. All remedies failed to help me, but I was quickly cured by Dr. H. O. Wells.

"MRS. AUGUST SHARPENBERG,
"Maples, Ind."

This is one of the hundreds of similar cases that have been cured at my office by electrical methods, after medicines had utterly failed. A notable case recently discharged cured was that of Benjamin Barlager, of Leipsic, Ohio, who had eczema of the face for nearly twenty years. He had visited Mt. Clemens, Hot Springs and many other places to get this disease cured, but everything failed until he took the electric treatment used by Dr. Wells. Mr. Barlager came over fifty miles to get these treatments, and would have been satisfied with the results had he come from the remotest corner of the earth. Many others would do likewise if they knew of the beneficent results secured by Dr. Wells in the treatment of skin diseases. Practically every case of chronic skin disease can be cured in the same way. Few people know that medicines can be driven to any depth by electrolysis. If you have skin disease, I would like to see you. I can cure you. The cost is nominal and at any rate it will cost you nothing to find out all about it. My office is located at 229 East Berry street, Fort Wayne.

HENRY BARTELS IS PROMOTED

Fort Wayne Man Takes a Higher Position With Mining Company.

SHAREHOLDERS INCREASING

Many Women Own Stock in the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Henry L. Bartels a Fort Wayne boy, who left the city last summer to take a position at Pocahontas, W. Va., with the Pocahontas Coal and Coke company, is making good and has received a nice promotion. He has been transferred from Pocahontas to Wilder, W. Va., where he assumed full control of all of the company's mining locomotives and electrical equipment, a very responsible position. Mr. Bartels is a graduate from the Fort Wayne Electric works and left here last July to take service at the Pocahontas mining plant of the company, which also holds extensive mining interests at Wilder.

CIVIL CONDUCTORS.

David Gibson Points Out the Necessity for Reform.

In a pamphlet issued by the Clover Leaf road, David Gibson has an article on "Common Courtesy." In part he says:

"Colleges today are turning out a great many civil engineers, but there is a much greater demand in the railway field for civil conductors.

"Common courtesy is the business of every man who meets the public in any capacity, be it ever so humble," writes Mr. Gibson. "Courtesy becomes a part of his trade, to be applied in the face of resistance, the same as it is a part of a carpenter's trade to apply a jack-plane on cross-grained woods, knots and even an occasional nail head.

"The man at the ticket window, the local agent, the gateman, the conductor, the trainman or any man whose business it is to come in individual contact with the public, if he becomes skillful in his work, must learn to restrain himself from often doing that which is every man's natural instinct to do in meeting discourteous, impatient and unreasonable people.

"The people who are mean in the morning are frequently kind enough at night. Doctors say that the reason people are more irritable in the morning, or after they have been sleeping, is that their blood pressure is low. Few people are mean at all times, and those who give way to their temper in the morning are frequently sorry for it by night.

"Any man, in any position, who can suppress himself and return the good will of the institution that employs him for the ill will of that part of the public who will display it, is surely making his own prosperity."

88,586 SHAREHOLDERS.

List of Owners of Pennsylvania Has Increased 13,431.

On January 1 there were 88,586 shareholders in the Pennsylvania Railroad company, the largest number in the history of the company, and showing an increase of 13,431 for the calendar year 1913.

Of this total 42,514 shareholders were women, there having been an increase during the year of 6,266 women stockholders. Women constitute almost 48 per cent of the total number of Pennsylvania railroad stockholders.

During the year there has been an increase of 6,010 shareholders in the state of Pennsylvania, the stockholders in this state now numbering 29,792.

Stockholders abroad now number 11,676, a total of 1,047 having been added during the past year.

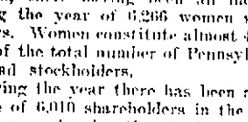
MERL RICE BADLY HURT.

Had Foot Crushed When Heavy Casting Fell on It.

Merl Rice, a flagman on the Pennsylvania road, was brought in on train No. 9 last evening and is now at his home, 3021 Euclid avenue, under the care of the company's surgeon. While at work with the train crew a heavy piece of metal fell upon one of his feet, bruising and spraining the member badly. It was the intention to take him to the St. Joseph hospital, but at his own request he was sent to his home. Flagman Rice was out on the road with Conductor P. S. Sullivan when the accident happened.

Lazy Livers

Are probably the cause of more ills than any other source of bodily ailments. But such troubles can easily be overcome by stimulating the liver to its natural action.



Is the most effective liver regulator you can use. It promptly restores the organ to natural healthy action.

This remedy is more beneficial than drastic cathartics and its effect is lasting.

THEIR NERVE FAILED THEM.

Last spring Henry Schlink and Thomas O'Reilly, apprentices at the Wabash copper and tin shop, wrote letters to two girls residing in Soddy, Tenn., who had written their names and addresses on a strawberry box and which fell in the hands of the Fort Wayne lads. This was the beginning of a correspondence that was kept up regularly until a month ago, when the boys wrote that they were going to Soddy to see the girls. They secured transportation and immediately lost their nerve. Mr. O'Reilly was so badly affected that he had to go to the Parq hospital, but Mr. Schlink's nerve stayed with him until he reached Cattanooga, twenty-three miles from Soddy, when it collapsed and he returned home. The incident reached the ears of the shopmates of the boys and they are being unmercifully "kidded."

GIRL STRIKERS ARE VIOLENT.

Girls demonstrated in Toledo yesterday an ability to make as much trouble for the "bosses" when on strike as the sterner sex. The dispatches tell of an incident in which striking girls employes of the General Electric works upset a wagon loaded with groceries and scattered the contents over the street. The groceries were for the noon luncheon of the strike-breakers at the lamp works. It took five policemen to quell the disturbance and make the fifteen girl strikers "move on." Arrangements are being made to have a conference between the representatives of the strikers and the factory management with a view of ending the trouble.

INSPECTED MAIL FACILITIES.

Representatives of the postal department this morning inspected the new Wabash station to learn the facilities for handling the mails. It is understood that the inspectors will make a favorable report of the conditions. The new depot will be opened in two weeks if the men who have charge of installing the iron stairway complete the work. They were due here yesterday, but had not yet put in an appearance at noon today.

EXAMINING WATCHES AND KEYS.

The semi-annual watch and switch key examinations are on at the Pennsylvania and all men in the train service—including conductors, brakemen, engineers, firemen, yard employes and station attaches, telegraph operators and inspectors—must have their watches and keys examined. A. Bruder examines the watches at Fort Wayne; J. M. Martin at Crestline and George Beach at Valparaiso.

INSPECTING THE STATIONS.

Supt. W. M. Wardrop and his staff are making a station inspection of the west end of the Western division today. They have the division special train and are stopping at every station on the line between this city and Clarke, taking dinner at Bourbon.

WORKING NINE HOURS A DAY.

The Mentfee foundry, which usually is not so busy at this time of year as at other times, is unusually busy now and the plant is kept in operation with a full force nine hours per day. The art stone department, however, is not so active, because there is no demand in winter time for the products. When the building season opens there will also be great activity in the department.

DROPPED OUT TWO TRAINS.

After next Sunday there will be no passenger trains over the Lake Erie and Western road in or out of Fort Wayne on Sunday. No. 43, which runs only on Sunday, will be discontinued, and No. 42, which is a daily train, will run every day except Sunday. Light traffic is the cause of the dropping of these Sunday trains.

CHARLEY BOND SICK.

Charles Z. Bond, foreman of the Wabash round house, is sick and confined to his home. This is a new experience for Mr. Bond, he having been in good health all his life.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

W. I. Bashlier and T. L. Nelson, G. R. & I. freight conductors, are reported sick.

H. Rohrbach and H. A. Bovine, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, are sick and off duty.

Machinist J. J. Strock, who was sick two weeks, resumed work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

W. A. Hopkins, of Toledo, division freight agent for the Wabash, was a Fort Wayne business visitor yesterday.

J. W. O'Brien, district passenger agent for the Missouri Pacific, with headquarters at Detroit, called at the local ticket office yesterday.

Charles A. Thomas, a tester taking the student's course at the Fort Wayne Electric works, has gone to Chicago to do special work for the company.

Gang Foreman R. W. Brandt, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, has gone to Columbus, Ohio, to visit relatives a few days. He is accompanied by his wife.

Superintendent J. C. Bipple and A. B. Stetson, of the local General Electric plant, left for the east yesterday to hold a conference with the officials of the company.

Engineer E. J. Partlow has been appointed road foreman of engines of the C., H. & D., with headquarters at the Moorefield shops in Indianapolis. He was hired as a fireman in 1899 and has been with the company ever since.

After a week's absence on account of sickness, George Schmidt reported for duty at the car building shop of the Pennsylvania this morning. H. H. Hoppe and H. C. Hartman, also cab builders, are sick and off duty.

The Chicago Post Thursday evening published a picture of S. F. Bowser and a notice of the Bowser Oil Tank and Pump works, of which he is the head. A brief account of the work of Mr. Bowser in bringing his inventions to perfection was included in the notice.

The color line was drawn at the Ludlow shops of the Queen and Crescent yesterday when two colored men, who had been hired to serve as machinists' apprentices, were discharged. The machinists refused to work with the colored men and the latter were promptly dismissed.

H. C. Mode, representing the Westinghouse company, was in the city today on business for the company. Mr. Mode says there has been a wonderful improvement in the business at Pittsburg and practically all the iron and steel mills, where ovens are being put in operation rapidly.

Florida tomatoes are coming into the markets, a car load, the first received from Florida, reaching Cincinnati yesterday. The crop of vegetables of all kinds in Florida and Texas is said to be immense and its movement northward will be quite a factor in the business over north and south lines.

The Pullman company will have a pension system, similar to that of the Pennsylvania. Men who have worked for the company twenty years and reach the age of seventy and women who are sixty-five years old may draw pensions. It is said that there are 7,000 porters who are eligible to pensions.

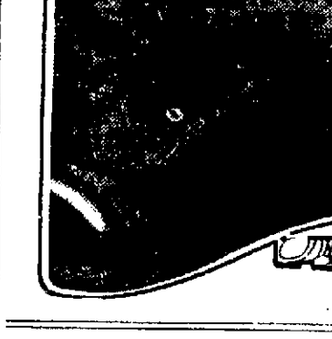
TRIAL JUDGE OF HOP PICKERS WHO ARE ACCUSED OF MURDER.

Superior Judge E. P. McDaniel, of Marysville, California, who is presiding at the trial of Ford, Suhr, Bagan and Beck, hop pickers, on trial for murder in connection with California's "Red Sabbath" riots on the huge Durst brothers ranch at Wheatland.

AS USUAL.

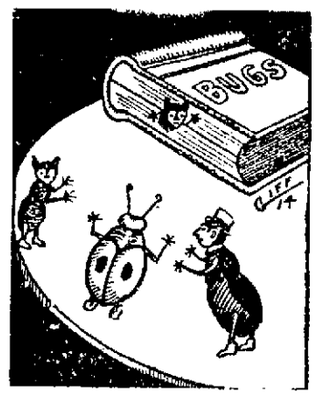


Visitor—How you are growing, Tommy! I suppose you'll soon be stepping into your father's shoes?

Tommy—Shouldn't be surprised. I have to wear everything else of his!

Except for various government departments, police and fire stations, etc., no telephones exist in Constantinople today, but an Anglo-American French company is vigorously pushing work on its franchise and will soon operate a complete network on both sides of the Bosphorus and to the Princes islands.

SOME JOB.



Mother Beetle—Billy, what are you doing there?

Billy Beetle—It's all right, ma, I'm only keeping the place for the professor until he comes back.

Reverse English.

The school concert had begun. Four little girls were dressed to represent the word "Star," and each had one letter of that word pinned onto her snowy-white dress. Each letter began the verse of a touching little song.

"Now," said the teacher, "form yourselves in position, and wait until the curtain goes up."

The little girls did as they were told, and while the piano played the accompaniment the curtain went up.

Instead of applause to greet the little girls, howls from the audience met them.

The word they spelled was "Rats."

POOLROOMS ARE THEIR HANGOUTS

Boy Thieves Confess in City Court and Tell of Idle Habits.

NEWS OF THE POLICE

Confessing frankly to stealing and admitting that they are idlers and spend their time mainly in pool rooms, John Betley and Alfred Hoover, each aged 16, were heard in the city court on a larceny charge this morning. Young Betley has been in trouble before and to his bad influence the Hoover lad ascribes his own downfall. Judge Kerr continued the cases for a day to permit an effort by himself and Prosecutor Callahan to make some helpful disposition of the lads. There does not appear to be much hope of improving Betley, but Hoover looks like more than fair material for the uplift. There is some question as to Hoover's correct age, and if he is not yet 16 it is desired to get him under the care of the juvenile court. Betley and Hoover were arrested yesterday by Detective Sergeant Joe Brennen for having stripped about $15 worth of the brass work from a locomotive in the Wabash yards. Hoover says that Betley got him to quit a job some weeks ago and go into unlawful enterprises for easy money. The prosecutor went at some length into the pool room phase of the career of these boys and prosecutions are imminent.

Another Larcenous Lad.

Willie Geerkin, aged 17, declared that when he took a small electric motor from the barn of William J. Lennart, 128 East Taber street, shortly before the holidays, it was not with larcenous purpose. He was merely borrowing the motor, he said, to light up a Christmas tree at the home of a sister, where he sometimes stys. He related on the stand an ingenious tale that he was just about to leave the home of his sister, on Van Buren street, to return the motor to its owner when Detective Sergeant Pappert dropped into the house, identified the motor as one he had been looking for during several weeks. Geerkin thought he could get back his job at the Electric works and under parole to an uncle, who is a well to do business man, was allowed to go on an indefinite continuance, promising to stick to his work, cut out bad company and evil habits and report regularly to Judge Kerr.

Miller's Weak Story.

Vern Miller was fined $6 and costs and given a suspended jail sentence of ten days for larceny committed September 24, last, when he stole a gold watch and fob belonging to Mrs. Florence Pennington, then of 208 West Main street, when Miller was a boarder in the household. Miller hocked the ticker from a dressing case in the chamber of Mr. and Mrs. Pennington while they were abed, hiked out on an excuse that he had cramps and was going for a drink to break the gripes and did not return until last week, when he was arrested. Miller said after he got out of the house he took a sudden notion to go home to Van Buren. The local police have been asked by Elkhart county authorities to hold Miller for them.

Uplegger Swiped Hose.

Al Uplegger, who made much of the point that he had not been in the city court since before Thanksgiving, was given $5 and costs and ten days suspended for stealing fifty feet of garden hose from the Pfeiffer hardware store, on Columbia street. He confessed the stealing and charged the offense to a souse he had at the time.

Club Bartender Pays Big Fine.

On a plea of guilty Henry Hoffman was fined $50 and costs for selling liquor without a license. Hoffman was in charge of the club above the John Condon saloon, 617 Calhoun street, Sunday afternoon, when Patrolman Clay, in plain clothes, raided the place. In assessing the minimum penalty Judge Kerr admonished Hoffman not to get in again. The court directed notice to the fact that the arrest of Hoffman was the first step in the application of a new policy of the department of public safety and that it would be the purpose of the court to aid to sustain that policy of law enforcement. The raided club was a plain Sunday annex to the saloon and had no legal status whatever.

Other City Court Cases.

Charles Wagner and Pat Phenie were among a considerable gang of track workers who came up from Huntington yesterday to have a time. Both got drunk and down and out. Wagner drew eleven days and Phenie was given a chance to hike for his job.

Harry Miller, drunk, was turned loose on a promise to get out of town at once.

The case against Elmer Carr for loitering was continued indefinitely and that against George Sweet for wife desertion was continued until Monday for trial.

HOME ROBBED OF JEWELRY.

A note tacked on the door apprising callers that the family were out and would return at 8 o'clock evidently invited a burglary at the A. C. Schmuck home, 1024 Barr street, last evening. It was after 8 when Mr. and Mrs. Schmuck returned and found the front door unlocked. They discovered nothing wrong when they first entered, but later in the front rooms they found that jewelry of a total value of $50 had been taken. Mr. Schmuck believes the robber was in the house when he and his wife returned and escaped when they walked to the rear of the house, which they had done at once upon entering.

AUTOMOBILE IDENTIFIED.

The Ford automobile which stood by the roadside north of the Fort Wayne Brick company's plant, north of the city, for almost two months has been identified as the property of the Colonial Laundry company of Detroit. Hoit Denning, adjuster for an automobile insurance company, has wired Chief of Police Lenz for information as to what procedure will be necessary to recover possession of the machine.

Dorcie R. Nugen, of Auburn, has been granted a patent on an automobile air-brake coupling and Forest E. Yarian, of Kosciusko county, received one on an attachment for carriage hoots.

Ralph Weaver, Huntington; William E. Cain, Huntington; Theodore Hoffman and Floyd E. Fruback, Fort Wayne, and Albert E. Oakley, North Creek, O., have enlisted at the local recruiting station for service in the United States navy.

Very Newest Mid-Season Millinery—Hats that Will Gladden the Heart of Every Woman

With the Decided New Ventures in Fashions

Practical, sensible, reasonable, define the features of the new hat. The smartest shapes are those that converge to points—some to the front, others to the side or back. Silk fabrics are the preferred material, such as moires, taffetas, failles, combined with malines or velvets. The new milan hemp braid is extensively used. Jet ornaments, jet stick-ups, spangles and beads are used for artistic embellishment; ostrich pon pons for necessary trimmings.

You will find in this collection Americanized adaptations of Paris creations; thoroughly representative of the very newest millinery suitable for southern tourists, or as an agreeable and refreshing change from the more dull and sombre styles of winter—very practical for wear in northern climes.

Prices Range from $3, $5, $7 and up.

SQUARELY FACE THE SPOILSMEN

Wilson and Burleson Line Up Against Wrecking of Civil Service.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

(By Gilson Gardner.)

Washington, Jan. 20.—President Wilson and Postmaster General Burleson are standing firmly against the spoilsmen of congress for the protection of assistant postmasters and other officials in the civil service.

"If every second and third class postmaster were to die tomorrow," said Postmaster General Burleson to your correspondent, "the work of the postoffice department would go right along as if nothing had happened. This is because these offices are in a majority of cases, political spoils. The work is done by others and would go forward in the way of regular routine. So far from taking any offices out from under the civil service system, I would like to put under that system the second and third class postmasters or else have them all abolished. But if I do recommend to the president that these political appointments be brought under the civil service law through an executive order, I give you my word that the system will not be to fill the offices with democrats and then bring them under the civil service law by a blanket order as was done by President Taft in the case of the fourth class postmasters. They will all have to pass a merit examination just as any outsider competing for the job, regardless of their party politics.

"The postoffice department I regard as one of the most efficient organizations in the world, but it is efficient in spite of the fact that it carries political dead wood, and not because it does."

In congress a crowd of hungry spoilsmen have been at work since this administration came into power trying to tear boards off the civil service fence. It is understood that the only reason the president has not vetoed previous bills creating places outside of the civil service is because the power under the law remained in him to put these places under the civil service at any time by executive order.

Congressman Moon has fathered the proposition to make spoils of the assistant postmasters in consequence of the strong pressure by his colleagues in congress who want jobs to hand out to their hungry constituents.

One defect in the Sherman anti-trust law which the administration's bill will seek to remedy is to be found in the fact that any rich offender like the Standard Oil company, when convicted under the Sherman law, is permitted to get away with the loot, and hundreds who have been robbed or ruined by unfair competitive methods are left without remedy or redress. To be effective the law should provide that any person injured would have only to establish the amount of loss suffered, the court recognizing the guilt of the defendant as a result of the government suit. Under the present law, every person seeking redress must begin suit anew even when the government has won a case like that against the Standard Oil.

Another provision of the new law will create the machinery for investigation and publicity touching the business methods of trusts. This board would co-operate with the department of justice and when it discovered a big concern oppressing the weak, would invoke the legal machinery of the government to protect the rights of the weaker competitor.

Another feature of the law will apply to trade agreements. The government intends to require big concerns to furnish copies of such agreements, so that the department may determine whether such agreements are fair or are against the spirit of the trust law.

No less important feature of the new trust law will be that relating to interlocking directorates. The law will try to make directors of the actual managers of properties, doing away with the domination of the investment banker. The recent move of Morgan & Co. in withdrawing from some boards does not answer the new trust requirements. That firm has merely made a start. In 1913 Morgan & Co. was a director in 48 corporations including 40 railroad corporations with at least 100 subsidiary companies and 161,000 miles of lines; three banks and trust or insurance companies, 5 industrial and public service companies. Morgan's principal partner, George F. Baker, was and is a director in 48 corporations, including 15 railroad corporations with at least 158 subsidiaries and 37,400 miles of track; 18 banks and trust companies; 15 public service corporations and industrial concerns; while the third member of the Wall street triumvirate, Mr. Rockefeller, is a director in 37 corporations, including 23 railroad corporations, with at least 117 subsidiary companies and 26,400 miles of line; 5 banks, trust or insurance companies; 9 public service and industrial concerns. This is the compilation made by Louis D. Brandeis from the records of the money trust inquiry in congress.

The exports of cotton from Galveston, Tex., for the season just closed show a total of 4,010,691 bales, which is said to be the highest figure ever attained by any cotton port in the world.

STAGE LETTER

DORMA LEIGH AND OY-RA.

New York, Jan. 16.—Right from the London Gaiety theater, bag and baggage, comes "The Girl on the Film." The entire company which made it a success for George Edwardes, England's most noted producer of musical comedy, has been imported by the Shuberts, and a cracking good company it is, with more than the usual appeal to American audiences.

George Grossmith, who heads the cast, is an excellent comedian and a clever dancer. Then there are the beautiful and petite Emmy Wehlen and the circumferential Connie Ediss, both of whom were previously well and favorably known to New York theater-goers. Also in the cast appears the name Lord Dangan (Arthur Wellesley), a sure-enough member of the nobility, picking up a few odd sovereigns as a regular actor.

You could pick out the scion of nobility in a minute, as the curtain was about to fall on the last act. While the rest of the ensemble was putting its vocal energies into the finale, with eyes front, 'is ludship was calling the attention of the showgirl on his arm (and maybe she didn't look proud!) to some friends of his in a box, to whom he was happily smiling and nodding, oblivious of everything else. Actors is actors, and lords is lords, stage makeup to the contrary notwithstanding.

Some remarkable athletic dancing is done by an attractive young woman named Dorma Leigh, and a muscular Russian youth bearing the singular appellation Oy-Ra.

One of the queerest things ever written by that queer little man, J. M. Barrie, is "The Legend of Leonora," in which Maude Adams is to be seen at the Empire. It is a sort of farcical travesty on two themes—English court procedure and the feminist movement. No one could ever call it Barrie's best play. But Miss Adams' personality and characteristics exactly suit the leading role, and she gives a delightful performance. Her support is unusually good.

Oh, it's nice to get up in the morning,
When the sun begins to shine;
At four, or five, or six o'clock,
In the good old summer time.
But when the snow is snowing
And it's murky overhead,
Oh, it's nice to get up in the morning,
But it's nicer to lie in bed!

Can you imagine whose latest song success that is? Can you imagine him singing it? Who? Who, but Harry Lauder, here for his annual tour, and delighting the Laudermaniacs who infest the Casino theater as none but the grotesque Harry can delight them.

* * *

For the first time in many, many years two sisters are to be seen on Broadway as co-stars. They are Mabel and Edith Taliaferro, who are to be seen at the Criterion in "Young Wisdom," a merry and enjoyable comedy by Rachel Crothers. It makes an excellent vehicle for the girls, and they have the support of a well-selected cast. The piece looks good for a long run and no end of touring.

* * *

Not for many days has Broadway been so amused by a theatrical story as by one that is now going the rounds.

Alexander Carr plays Perlmutter in "Potash and Perlmutter." He was ill for several days recently, and his place was taken by Harry First. Both Carr and First are well known as delineators of the Hebrew on the stage.

When Carr was convalescent, he went to see First give a performance, so the story runs. Afterward he said to First: "You are doing very well, but why do you imitate me in every gesture and every expression?"

"Imitate nothing!" replied First, "I don't imitate you, and you don't imitate me. We both imitate Dave Warfield."

THE RED CROSS SOCIETY

Has, Beyond All Doubt, Done More For the Alleviation of Human Suffering Than Any Other Organization, and Ought to Have the Support of Every Person Who Has the Welfare of Humanity at Heart.

The wonderful results that they have been able to accomplish could only have been secured by co-operation.

Drs. Hardman and Barnhill, long ago, realized that in the treatment of chronic and deep-seated diseases, little could be expected from individual effort; and working along the lines of co-operation have succeeded in perfecting methods of treatment that has almost revolutionized the old, antiquated ideas. In fact, they have succeeded in curing many cases that would, otherwise have been doomed to a life of misery and suffering—if not to the grave, itself. They make no claims, whatever, to any supernatural ability. The wonderful results they have obtained, and which have been many times proven by their numerous testimonials that have been published in these columns, are simply the result of the combined effort of highly trained specialists working in harmony with each other; and as their interests are identical, they are willing and glad to give the patients the results of their experience—for whatever helps one, helps the others, and all this is for the benefit of the afflicted. Thus anyone can readily see what a great advantage it is to anyone who is so unfortunate as to be suffering from any disease that is included in the special diseases that these doctors treat. You not only get the co-operative experience of these specialists but the cost of the treatment is even less than is usually charged by the regular physician, who has only himself to rely upon.

They treat most all chronic and nervous diseases, including rheumatism, Goitre, Rupture, Fistula, Stomach, Liver and Bowel Trouble, Anemia, Catarrhal conditions and Special Diseases of both men and women. Eye troubles or errors in refraction. They save your eyes. Their wonderful method of placing the medicine directly within the blood stream has proved truly remarkable in the treatment of tuberculosis and other diseases of a general constitutional character. Their institution is located at 124 East Washington St. Their hours are 9-12, 1-5 and 7-8. Sundays 9-12 only.—Adv.

CERTIFIED COPY OF WILSON DEED

Submitted in President's Contest for Land in California.

TWO OTHERS CLAIM IT

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 23.—When the hearing regarding the rights of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president, to title of sixty acres of land in the Coachella valley was resumed today before officials of the local government land office indications were that it would be completed and the case taken under advisment before night.

The hearing was begun yesterday before Register Robinson and Receiver Buren at the instigation of John T. King, of Thermal, Cal., acting for Mrs. Wilson. The most important piece of evidence to be introduced today, according to King, was a certified copy of the deed held by President Wilson to the land in question which it is claimed was given the chief executive by Mrs. Wilson.

Mrs. Wilson obtained title to the land from her sister, Mrs. Margaret A. Elliott, wife of a member of the faculty of Stanford university, who purchased it, it is said, to be used in date culture. President Wilson's title to the property, which is valued at about $8,000, is being contested by Mrs. C. Hensie and Homer L. Goddard, both of Los Angeles. Mrs. Hensie claims to have homesteaded the property after a forfeiture by King.

TAKING TEA WITH WILSON; WHAT WHITE HOUSE RECEPTION IS LIKE.

(Editor's Note—The Sentinel asked Fred C. Kelly, the well known Washington humorist, to attend President Wilson's reception to the diplomatic corps the other night and write it up for this newspaper. Here's his story.)

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Jan. 22.—At the white house the other night I stood on the same little section of parquetry floor in the east room until a piece of spinal column tried to poke itself through the small of my back.

And upwards of 2,000 other persons, representing the statesmanship, beauty and chivalry of the nation were undergoing similar hardships. All about me were famous men just as miserable as I was!

It was the president's reception to the diplomatic corps, the first big social stunt of the Wilson administration, and we were all herded into the east room, surrounded by red plush ropes.

But it was all worth while. The thing that made it worth while was the democracy of the occasion.

When you consider that one of the leading clubs of the nation's capital bars men who engage "in trade," and that we nurture within the city's confines hundreds of young men who raise cute little mustaches and go to the afternoon teas instead of going to work as that, I say—it is a great thing to know that democracy reigns. And a president's reception is a good place to catch democracy right in the act of reigning.

Directly in front of me were a brace of heavily upholstered dowagers wearing diamond tiaras. But—almost invariably—the larger the tiara the plainer the face beneath it, so that these women really were no better off than anyone else.

Gradually we traipsed through the narrow corral on into the green room and thence into the blue room. There, back of a door jamb, stood the president, hard at his task of shaking 2,017 persons by the hand. He also was obliged to look as if he just loves that sort of thing!

One gives one's name to the military aide and he tells it to the president. It used to be that the announcer shouted the name boisterously enough for all in the room to hear, and one felt as conspicuous as a window trimmer or a father out wheeling his twins.

The way to do is to take the president by the hand not too severely, for his hand already feels to him like a Welsh rabbit—and put him perfectly at his ease by greeting him in a tone of great kindness!

We press on, on, to the state dining room. And there we find a fitting example of democracy that should be an inspiration to the youth of our land. Strong men and beautiful women are jostling one another to reach the tables where gentlemanly attendants are handing out ice cream and sandwiches and tea punch. D'ye ever drink tea punch? Don't. It reminds you of a funeral in a rainstorm.

"No," said Mr. Bryan, as he reached for one more helping of ice cream, "I prefer water; really."

Along came Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi. Just to show his entire confidence that the "punch" was thoroughly innocuous, he stepped up boldly and unafraid and fired a salute to himself of three glasses!

Above is President Wilson shaking hands at his first public party; below him is a sketch of senator John Sharp Williams drinking "tea-punch" and surviving it! The lowest picture shows foreign ambassadors in the line just like "common folks."

Vice President Marshall was most dignified. He was done up in the height of the prevailing modes and wore a neat little black-edged white tie such as any bright young haberdasher's clerk will tell you he himself is thinking of wearing!

BAKES BREAD FOR UNCLE SAM.

MISS HANNAH L. WESSLING AT WORK IN HER "BAKING ROOM."

Miss Hannah L. Wessling is Uncle Sam's professional baker. Her mission is mere bread-making, but not in an ordinary kitchen. Her work is done in government laboratories. The loaves she makes are used as tests to set new standards for the American housewife and the professional baker.

Miss Wessling's careful experiments are expected to solve many problems of the woman who makes her own bread. For instance, her tests will probably determine the best-sized loaf to bake and the right temperature of the oven. They are expected to settle the problem of proper selections of flour and quantities of flour; also proportions of liquid, salt, sugar, etc., to be used.

HOW AN ONION CURES A C.

Most persons know that eating a raw onion "drives out a cold," but why the onion should possess this beneficent power not one in a hundred persons who were cured would be able to say.

The oil contained in the onion, chives, radish and horse radish, the New York American states, is an oil that belongs in the category of spices, and this oil has a deadly effect upon certain pathogenic, that is to say, harmful bacteria flourishing in various organs of the human body. The intestinal flora against which Dr. Metchnikoff wages his incessant campaign are the best known of the pathogenic bacteria and are among the most dangerous. But the microbe which causes colds is quite annoying. According to Doctor Haig, the great uric acid specialist, all colds are due to a combination of three things—a chill, a microbe or a uric acid tendency which prepares a cell for the microbes' growth. In addition to being a source of great discomfort a cold is dangerous as well, because the person suffering with it is always in jeopardy of pneumonia. The pneumonia germ, the diplococcus pneumoniae, is present in moderate numbers in the mouth of perfectly healthy persons, but the mucous membrane forms a sort of protective wall against it to bar it from entering the system. During a cold the extremely delicate membrane lining of the nose, mouth and throat is intensely irritated and its protective efficiency is greatly weakened, affording the pneumonia germ a better foothold than when the membrane is in normal condition.

Among the germs to which the oil of the onion is a deadly foe is the cold microbe, and by attacking it one of the causes producing colds is obviated. Thus the cold microbe, one of the necessary three factors that caused the cold, an onion, eaten raw, will "drive out the cold."

Properly speaking, the onion is a vegetable, but because of its strong flavor we have come to regard it almost exclusively as a spice. There are other spices which have just as good an effect upon the human system. According to Dr. Alfred Gigon of Basel, spices are a much abused constituent of the diet. He classifies spices into five divisions. Into the first class fall salt and the so-called aromatic spices—ginger, cinnamon, cloves, pepper, etc. These spices, by stimulating the flow of saliva and of the gastric juices, further digestion.

Technical Defense.

The following conversation was recently overheard, if we are to believe the man who tells it, upon the stairs of the Berlin elevated. It could never have taken place in New York, naturally. There would not have been time. The parties to it were a gentleman and a lady. She began it:

"What impudence!"

"Are you talking about me?"

"I am. Just you. You jabbed me with your umbrella."

"Absurd. I did not jab you with my umbrella."

"But you did. Exactly that. Jabbed me with your umbrella. Don't you know, you brute, that civilized people don't carry umbrellas sticking out like that from under their arms?"

"I tell you, once more, I never did it. I did not jab you with my umbrella."

"More insolence! Yet you've still got the thing tucked under your arm and sticking out. I suppose you'll be jabbing me with your umbrella again in a minute."

"But it isn't my umbrella. It's a borrowed one."—New York Evening Post.

When You Dine With King George.

Dinner at Buckingham palace is never later than eight. King George, unlike King Edward, plays the part of listener rather than talker at the dinner table. The rule that no guest should touch on a subject of talk that had not been first introduced by the royal host and hostess is now out of date. At a private dinner party the king and queen are addressed as "sir" and "ma'am," and never as "your majesty."

A rather curious rule that concerns the serving of wines which are not decanted is observed at the king's dinner table. The name of the grower or shipper of the wine is always removed from the bottle before it is taken into the royal dining-room. The reason of this is to avoid giving the grower or shipper the big advertisement of his wines appearing on the king's dinner table. It dates from the reign of George III.

No Time for Haste.

The heroic fireman, with the fainting woman in his arms, stood at a seventeenth-story window of the burning building. Flames were bursting from the windows above and below and dense clouds of smoke were swirling around the man and his unconscious burden. In another minute it might be impossible for him to reach the iron fire escape, yet he stood there waiting, with the woman in his arms.

"Hurry! Hurry!" shouted the agonized people, who looked up from across the street, where they were kept back by watchful policemen.

One man, more excitable than the others, shouted:

"Come on down, you idiot! What are you standin' there for? Can't you see that escape will be cut off in another minute?"

"Keep quiet," commanded an officer. "He don't start down till they begin on the second reel."

UNKNOWN TO SCIENCE

STRANGE ANIMALS BELIEVED TO EXIST IN AFRICA.

Particulars Have Not Been Made Public, But Professors of Natural History Are Inclined to Credit the Report.

Ex Africa semper aliquid novi. The proverb of the ancient world still holds good in the bustling days and amid the unflagging activities of the twentieth century. The latest report from what used to be known as the Dark Continent appears in a contemporary, the London correspondent of which records a report of the discovery of "yet another strange and unknown beast" in East Central Africa.

Particulars are said to have reached the Natural History museum at London of the existence of an animal "about the size of a bear, tawny color, with very shaggy long hair." This interesting creature is also described as "short and thick-set in the body, with high withers and a short neck and stumpy nose," and "its existence is vouched for by more than one official."

Inquiry at the museum by a representative of the Pall Mall Gazette fails, however, to confirm these attractive details. In the eyes of the authorities at South Kensington "particulars" of such discoveries have to be of a definite and material kind in the shape of some portion of the animal, bones, for example, or a piece of skin.

Nothing of that sort is at present forthcoming. "Rumors have, however, reached the museum," said an official of the mammal department, "of the existence of a hitherto unknown animal, possibly such as is described, but we have no 'particulars,' and can, therefore, substantiate no account of details. When the okapi was discovered 'particulars' were forthcoming in the form of belts made from its skin and worn by the natives."

"You do not, then, credit the account?"

"We don't say such an animal does not exist. All that can be said is that no 'particulars' are to hand up to now. There was a rumor some time ago of the discovery of a water elephant which, apparently, was of the nature of a very substantial tapir, but nothing seems to have come of it. If we could have a proper systematic survey of Central Africa it would probably result in the discovery of any number of new creatures.

"The Kongo region, whence this rumor in all probability arises, is almost unknown from a zoological point of view. There are, for instance, any number of new monkeys there, concerning which we find nothing in the books of ten years ago. A few men are engaged in natural history research on the borders of the Kongo region, and the East Africa districts have been swept by the big game expeditions of Roosevelt and others. But without doubt there are many unknown animals yet to be discovered in the Kongo region."

Practical Nursery Rug.

For a good all-round rug in a room where children run about, an army blanket is just the thing. It clings to the floor and dust does not go through. It sweeps easily and washes without any shrinking or wrinkling.

When asbestos table mats are soiled and unfit for table use, try laying them for a few minutes on a glowing fire in the furnace, handling them carefully, with a garden fork; they will come out with the dirt burned off and white.

Lemon juice will clean aluminum. If your aluminum pans and kettles become blackened, just put a little of the juice on a cloth and rub the utensil well.

"Jim the Penman."

For exquisite handwriting few persons have ever excelled that prince of forgers, James Townsend Saward, alias "Jim the Penman," whose deeds were the sensation of 1857. His forged checks and bills of exchange were so cleverly executed and so numerous that they were beginning to affect the security of the entire mercantile community. Lawyers were favorite victims, a copy of their signatures being obtained by one of his confederates employing them to recover fictitious debts. Jim the Penman was at last captured through treachery, tried and transported for life to Australia.—London Cronicle.

HAIR STOPS FALLING, DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS--25 CENT DANDERINE

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.—Adv.

Marysville, Cal., Jan. 23.—Beset by overwhelming bias on every side in their fight to escape the gallows on the charge of having been responsible for the killing of former District Attorney Manwell in the Wheatland riots, where four were killed, Ford, Bagan and Beck have turned to a pair of jail kittens for companionship. Bagan, particularly, takes great comfort in playing with the kittens during the long watches of the night.

"Ain't no one like dumb animals for friends," he says in his boyish way. "Just look at these kittens, rubbing up against my feet no bias there." And his solemn eyes lit with one of their rare smiles.

WANDERING BOY MOVES RUNAWAY

Old Song Causes Youth to Reveal Identity and Go Home.

HAS A LONG STORY

New York, Jan. 23.—How he had been put in jail as a vagrant, adopted by a prosperous farmer and finally persuaded after three years' absence from his home in Passaic, to return to his parents by hearing a sermon and a familiar hymn, was told by Walter Darby, fifteen years old. He is the son of Reginald C. Darby, of No. 95 Grant street, Passaic. His story is corroborated by the police of Easton, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Miller, of East Allen, near Bath, Pa. The boy even went so far as to take a fictitious name.—Thomas Green—so that his parents would not hear of him.

He was twelve years old when he decided to "see the world." By a Lackawanna freight train he travelled to the coal regions of Pennsylvania. He lived the live of a young tramp, begging food from door to door. On his wanderings he met Frank Green, sixty-nine years old, and the two were arrested as vagrants in Easton. The aged man received thirty days in jail and "Tommy" twenty. This, he declared, did not worry him in the least, as he rather liked the adventure.

While in jail Walter, alias "Tommy" confessed to the warden that he had run away from his home, adding that he would never tell who he was. Then John A. Blair, a wealthy farmer, inquired of the authorities of Easton if they knew of a boy he could adopt. "Tommy" received the chance of a fine home and consented to go with Mr. Blair. He became a model boy—so that persons wondered why he had ever run away from home as much as they did about his wonderful ability to keep a secret. Yes, "Tommy's" past was closed to all.

But the secret was wrung from the boy by a sermon on "The Wayward Boy," which the Rev. Dr. Henry delivered, together with the singing afterward of "Oh, where is my wandering boy tonight."

"Some of these boys who have left their home, realize before it is to late, what home means. They go back sometimes and become great men."

It was the two last words that caught "Tommy." He told Mrs. Miller and Mr. Blair who he was. So the boy became "Reggie" and went back to his home, having made fast and affectionate friends of the persons who had adopted him.

"I had plenty of experiences," said Reginald. "It's hard to tell about them. Pretty fine for a time, it may be, but when you hear some things you just feel that you have to get back to your mother. Just take a tip from me that running away from hom e is not so nice as some fellers say it is. There's an awful lot of dreaming done about traveling. I was so glad when I slept in my own house for the first time in three years, after kissing my mother goodnight, that I just thought I was having a good old dream."

BOARD WANTS AN OLD LAW CHANGED

Statute for Assessing Cost of Lamp Posts Cuts Out Property Owner.

THE MUNICIPAL NEWS

In view of the controversy that has arisen over the payment for the several systems of ornamental are lights installed on Fort Wayne streets, the board of works believes the law under which these improvements have been made should be changed in such wise as to give the property owner a voice in determining the cost of betterments for which he must pay. Under the law as it is the board may order lamp posts for any public place without notice or publication or the hearing of remonstrances and assess the cost against property owners. The language of section 138 reads:

"Whenever the board of public works of any city shall order any street, alley or public place to be supplied with lamp posts, it may by resolution order such lamp posts without publication or notice or the hearing of remonstrances. Contracts for such lamp posts may be let as other contracts, and the cost thereof assessed against the owners of property benefited, as the cost of street sprinkling; and the same shall be collected and the department of finance and the treasurer shall perform the same duties, and the contractor shall have the same rights as in the case of street sprinkling assessments."

Section 137, relating to sprinkling assessments reads:

"In case the cost of street sprinkling shall be paid by assessments, the duties of the department of finance and the treasurer, the rights of contractors and the liabilities of any city in relation to such sprinkling assessment, also the right of foreclosure of liens by suit and the recovery of interest, costs and attorneys' fees, so far as applicable, shall be the same as provided for in this act in the case of assessments for street improvement, except as otherwise herein provided. All street sprinkling assessments for any one year shall be payable in full on the first Monday in November in such year, in the manner that street improvement assessments are payable. But the provisions of this act in relation to the payment of street improvement assessments by installments and the issuing of bonds to anticipate the same, shall have no application to street sprinkling assessments."

Chairman Frank E. Singrey, of the board of works, stated today that he does not like this law under which the board has authority to impose heavy assessments on a property owner who has no recourse at all, and no alternative but to pay. Member Kelly, of the board, expressed a similar view.

At last night's meeting of the board of works some twenty-five property owners from various streets recently improved by ornamental lights were present to object to their assessments. They believe the city should pay part of the cost as had been planned by the former board, but Mayor Hosey declared with great emphasis that no money should be taken from the lighting plant fund for such a purpose. If this is adhered to the people owning property along the streets improved will have to bear the entire burden. Assessment rolls were approved for Main street, Maiden lane to Broadway, $2.60 per lineal foot; Clinton street, Columbia to Jefferson, $2.65; Harrison street, Columbia to Jefferson, $2.68; Columbia street, $2.63; Harrison street, Jefferson to Grand and on Grand, $3.08.

Previous to approving the assessment rolls the board rescinded action taken by the former board in approving the West Main street rolls. The date for the final hearing will be fixed at once.

APPROPRIATION ABOUT USED UP.

Public Lighting Fund Has All It Can Carry for Year.

The appropriation of $40,000 for public lighting in Fort Wayne during the year 1914 is just about gone so far as provision made for spending it is concerned. Are lamps, alley lights, ornamental lights, subway lights and other lights the city must maintain for public illumination will cost for the year $38,121.59. There is a demand for twenty-six additional arc lights for street intersections and the board wants to install these and that will cost $2,600 for the year, making a total cost of $39,421.59 for public lighting, leaving but little over $500 for emergencies.

One member of the board suggested that the cost of operating the ornamental lights on the down town streets ought to be to some extent paid for by the business houses that get the larger benefit from them.

TRYING TO FIND A WAY.

Board Wants Cheaper Plans and Satisfactory Assessment for Lakeside.

The board of works will attempt to procure cheaper plans and to devise a satisfactory system of assessments for the proposed lift pumps to relieve Lakeside of excess of water and backed up sewage in times of flood. It is hoped to find a satisfactory equipment at a cost of not to exceed $10,000 and to so impose the assessments that the people who have property on the higher ground and are not affected seriously by floods will not kick against what they have to pay. About 125 resident property owners from Lakeside and Forest Park were present at the board's meeting last evening, which was held in the council chamber. If efficient means of providing relief cannot be had for less than the $30,000 that one concern submitted as its bid for making the installation, then the pump proposal will be abandoned. There was presented last night a remonstrance bearing fifty-five names and under consideration was an old petition bearing 159 names asking for the improvement. The board has assured the petitioners that everything possible will be done to give them relief. Last night's meeting developed some acrimony of feeling between persons of differing views.

LET PAVING CONTRACTS.

The board of works has awarded to the Grace Construction company the contracts for resurfacing West Berry street, from Rockhill to College, with asphalt, and for the paving of Sherman street, high to Archer, with anchored bituminous concrete. Contracts will not be entered into until the council appropriates money to pay for the city's share of the cost of these improvements. A plat for Bauer's sub-division, between Third and Fourth streets, from Rumsey to Runnion, was approved, and an assessment roll for an alley sewer between Stophlet and Taylor streets was confirmed.

MAKE AN INSPECTION TRIP.

Mayor Hosey, the board of works and City Engineer Randall this afternoon made an inspection of conditions in the intercepting sewer at Nelson street, where the South Wayne sewer conjoins it. Conditions there are reported to be in need of prompt attention.

METER READERS NAMED.

The board of works has appointed Edward J. O'Connor, of Webster street, and James S. Erwin, 901 Third street, to the newly created places of meter readers in the waterworks department. There are now four readers in the department and the city will be divided into districts according to a plan submitted by Secretary Beuret, of the waterworks department.

Cole—Beard.

Mrs. Ora Beard, of 1911 Hoagland avenue, and Mr. William Cole, of Angola, were married on Thursday afternoon by Rev. C. Claud Travis, pastor of the Wayne Street M. E. church. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. O'Brien were the attendants. The bride wore a brown satin suit with brown velvet hat trimmed with ostrich plumes and Mrs. O'Brien, who was her attendant, wore a blue cloth suit with black beaver hat. The wedding supper was served at the home of the bride and later they went to Angola, where a large reception was held in their honor last evening by relatives of Mr. Cole. The bride has a sweet disposition that has endeared her to many friends, who regret her departure from the city to live.

Nahrwold—Rose.

Miss Dorothy L. P. Rose and Mr. Otto W. Nahrwold were married quietly on Wednesday afternoon by Rev. Henry Luehr, pastor of Zion's Lutheran church.

Mrs. Mabel Bailey, who had been visiting her son, J. Wade Bailey and family, of Nelson street, has returned to her home in Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Franklin Mead has gone to points in Canada for a visit.

Timbrook—Weisenburger.

At the home of Mrs. Catherine Weisenburger, on Thursday, took place the wedding of her daughter, Miss Elise Weisenburger, to Mr. Roy M. Timbrook. Rev. J. H. Bosch performed the ceremony. The bride wore a very pretty dress of white messaline with tunic of silk embroidery and point lace edged with pearl trimming. The bride wore a veil held to her hair with a wreath of rosebuds and smilax and she carried a bouquet of bride roses. After the wedding service a dinner was served and the guests, who were the immediate relatives, extended many hearty congratulations as both bride and groom have the love and respect of many relatives and friends. The bride is an interesting and attractive young woman. Mr. Timbrook is an automobile mechanic and at present is employed by M. E. Dessauer. The wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bell, Mrs. Bell being the groom's mother; Mrs. Fred Blessing and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Weisenburger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robinson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weisenburger, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Weisenburger, Mrs. Amelia Altekruse, Miss Esther Altekruse and Miss Lillie Benz.

ART OF TREE SCULPTURE

Old English Custom That Called for the Cutting of Fantastic Shapes.

Very many years ago it was the fashion of England and on the continent to have great gardens of evergreen trees trimmed and clipped into curious and fantastic shapes. To such an extent did the craze develop that these gardens were filled with crouching lions, pigs and even hens and chickens, all laboriously sculptured from living green and kept in trim by constant use of the knife and the shears.

A few of these gardens were established in this country and one still remains in perfect condition. It is located on the famous Hunnewell estate at Wellesley, Mass., and is visited by people from all over the world. The garden is on the side of a terraced hill dropping away to a beautiful little lake.

Evergreens of many kinds are to be found there and each summer a force of workmen with long ladders carefully prune and trim the branches in order to preserve the strange shapes which have been developed with the utmost patience.—Popular Electricity.

A famous German physician proves that infantile paralysis is often carried from one household to another by domestic animals, such as chickens, ducks and steers.

AMERICAN WOMEN THINK TOO MUCH; NOT ENOUHG HEART, SHE SAYS.

FANNY ANITUA, SPANISH PRIMA DONNA.

Los Angeles, Jan. 13.—"The American women think too much with the head, senora. The Latins, we have more the heart—you understand? Maybe we are a little crazy—yes?—but that is good when you are an artiste."

Fanny Anitua is very young, heroic of figure, cheery of temperament and the owner of a real voice.

"I am Spanish," said the famous singer, "but when very young my father moved to Mexico. My family very high in Spain—and rich, too.

"It is a long time before Mexico will be peaceful. Madero was the best president for Mexico and I was in Mexico City when they murdered him. Fifty years from now Mexico can have such a man in her president's chair; now, they kill all the good.

"The reason all the great divas are of the Latin is because of the temperament; an overflowing heart unsteadied by the Anglo-Saxon head."

DR. M'CAUSLAND IS HELD NOT GUILTY

NEWS OF THE COURTS

Two hours and a quarter after they ha retire to deliberate the jury that tried Dr. John W. McCausland on a charge of performing a criminal operation returned a verdict declaring him not guilty. The jury had its verdict under consideration but little more than an hour, for there should be deducted from the time between their retirement and their report of an agreement almost an hour consumed in going to dinner. It was 11:55 this forenoon when Judge John W. Eggeman finished delivering his instructions and it was 2:10 this afternoon when the jury came in. The early verdict was a surprise on all sides, for while it had been freely predicted that Dr. McCausland would not be found guilty, the popular guess was a disagreement. At 2 o'clock the court was notified the jury was ready to report a verdict and the defendant and the counsel for both sides were summoned. Foreman John Shearer announced that an agreement had been reached and Judge Eggeman read the jury's verdict finding the defendant not guilty. There was a hearty burst of handclapping from a considerable crowd in the public reservation and Court Bailiff Witte had some difficulty suppressing the noise.

Dr. McCausland was accused of having performed a criminal operation on Pearl Marie Baldwin, a 13-year-old girl for whose ruin Fred C. Klemm is now serving a long term in prison. The girl's testimony was positive. Dr. McCausland denied outright that he had ever attended the girl.

Notes of the Courts.

Judge David Smith, sitting as a special judge in the circuit court, has given a decree of divorce to Mary Kalliker from John Kalliker. She gets the custodaay of the children and $15 a month for their support.

In the superior court Judge Yaple has granted a decree of divorce to Viola E. Williams from Albert C. Williams. The couple had lived together for thirty-three years.

John H. Aiken, as special judge in the superior court, has rendered judgment for $909.65 for the plaintiff on special findings in the case of Max Goldberger against Maurice Goldberger to recover money paid on an insurance policy. An appeal to the appellate court has been taken.

His Pie Business Ruined.

In suing the Indiana Lighting company for $1,500 damages, Arne Dautz, a pieman, states to the circuit court that he once had a flourishing business in the making and selling of pies. He says that each day by means of an ordinary kitchen range he baked 130 pies which he sold for a dime apiece at a total net profit of $6. He says that the defendant induced him to buy a gas range that would greatly facilitate his work of pie manufacture, but that the oven did not come up to guarantee and that he has lost his pie trade in consequence.

Wants $3,000 Damages.

Louis Douglas has brought suit in the superior court against Geo. B. Swift & Company for $3,000 damages for personal injuries. The defendant is a Chicago firm that is constructing the new Pennsylvania passenger station on Baker street and Douglas says that while employed as a carpenter he fell from the roof, a distance of forty feet, and sustained injuries to an arm and a leg that have permanently affected his earning capacity.

Hits Every Fiduciary Concern.

In a suit for divorce to which every bank and trust company in the city and the Northern Indiana Traction company are made party, Barbara S. Harrod has begun suit in the superior court against John C. Harrod for divorce and $1,000 alimony. She says he is an habitual drunkard, has failed to support her properly and finally has deserted her. Restraining orders have been issued against all the financial concerns and the traction company, by which concern Harrod is employed, to prevent their permitting him to draw any money he may have coming to him.

DISPENSARY TO OPEN IN APRIL

Anti-Tuberculosis Heads Pleased With Report on Work.

HAVE NEARLY $1,600

Perry A. Randall, president of the Fort Wayne Anti-Tuberculosis society, states today that the free dispensary to be opened for the benefit of tuberculosis sufferers in this city will not be in operation before April 1. A meeting of the association directors was held Thursday evening and reports submitted show the organization to be in the best condition in its history, and the treasury now contains approximately $1,800, an enormous gain over the last year.

Dr. Eric A. Crull has been delegated to find a suitable location for the proposed dispensary, which will be opened at stated hours each day. Persons suffering from the white plague will be given free advice, treatment, supplies and literature.

WHERE'S THAT SPONGE?

Surgeons May Now Escape Sewing Them Up in Patients' Bodies.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—So that surgeons may escape the humiliating experience of leaving sponges sewed in the bodies of patients, a new method of accounting for sponges used in operations is being employed with success, according to the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association. Sponges which measure a yard in length and two and four inhes wide are being used. To the end of each is securely sewed a piece of narrow tape eight or ten inches long. To this the nurse ties a numbered metal check the size of a silver dollar. By arranging the sponges consecutively on a separate table, the nurse may account for every sponge at the end of the operation. Few surgeons of large experience have escaped the experience of leaving sponges in incisions, according to the article.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS.

The best way to clean the bean pot: Fill with cold water, put in some kind of washing powder and cover tight. Put on the stove and let it come to a boil. This will make it easy to wash.

No doubt every housewife knows she should not break the skin of beetroots before boiling, or they will be almost white instead of a nice deep red. Perhaps all do not know if the raw beetroot should be bruised or broken a touch with a redhot poker will form a new skin.

YOUNG GIRL DIES OF ASPHYXIATION

GAS TUBE BROKEN

Miss Julia Sommers, 23 years old, daughter of Adolph Sommers, 2301 Wiesser Park avenue, was found dead in her room at 8 o'clock today at the home of W. P. Yarnelle, 1016 West Wayne street, where she was employed as a domestic.

It was a case of accidental asphyxiation. The girl's lifeless body was found in bed after members of the family became alarmed at her absence from the kitchen and had detected the odor of escaping gas.

Her room was entered and it was found that she had been asphyxiated. Coroner E. H. Kruse was summoned and found that the girl's death was caused by suffocation and an investigation showed that the gas had escaped from a split tube leading from a gas pipe to a heating stove.

The young lady returned to her home late Thursday evening and it is known that she lighted the gas heater. She had turned the gas off before retiring, but in some manner the tube bursted near its union with the stove, and when members of the Yarnelle family entered the room, they found the windows closed and the room filled with gas.

Miss Sommers had been employed at the Yarnelle home for three weeks. She came to Fort Wayne with her father three months ago from St. Joe, Mich. She was a member of Zion's Lutheran church, and surviving besides the father she leaves three brothers and two sisters, Earl, Rudolph, William, Amelia and Matilda Sommers.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the residence, and at 2 o'clock from Zion's Lutheran church.

The flowers that bloom in the spring are now at Bradley Flower Shop, 828 Calhoun St., telephone 1229. Tulips, daffodils, hyacinths, narcissus, freesia, baby primrose, Chinese primrose, azalea, cyclamen and cineraria.

DASWACUR MAY NOT DIE.

Man Who Took Bichloride of Mercury is Holding His Own.

Word from Hope hospital this afternoon is that William Daswacur, the paroled convict, who, following a quarrel with his wife at their home, 605 Lasalle street, swallowed a bichloride of mercury tablet, is holding his own and there are indications that he may recover. It is too soon to determine that with any certainty, but the man's condition today is better than there was any reason to expect he could be with more than seven grains of bichloride of mercury in his system.

Foreman Joseph Slater, of the Bass blacksmith shop, gives Daswacur a good character as a willing worker. Daswacur reported for work yesterday morning, remained an hour, complained of being sick and went home. His wife yesterday afternoon drew his wages.

RULES COMMITTEE REFUSES.

Will Not Link Assistant Postmaster Proposal With Good Roads.

Washington, Jan. 23.—The house rules committee today refused to make a special provision to couple a $25,000,000 good roads appropriation with the proposal to exempt 2,400 assistant postmasters from civil service in the new postal appropriation bill. Either provision may now be eliminated on a point of order. It was sought to couple them to unite supporters of each proposal for both.

GAS IS FATAL TO THREE.

Two Men and a Woman Found Dead in Philadelphia Lodging House.

Philadelphia, Jan. 23.—Two men and a woman were found dead in a room of a lodging house here today, death resulting from asphyxiation due to gas escaping from a tube that had become detached from a gas stove. The men were Thomas O'Brien and Frank Donagan, but the identity of the woman has not been established by the police.

ELKS' MINSTRELS TO BE A SCREAM

Director Says They Are as Perfect as Can Be Already.

IT'S SOME CHORUS

Those who are to participate actively in the Elks' minstrels to be given next week at the Empress theater have been rehearsed night after night for the past few weeks, until Jack S. Keefe, jr., of Boston, who is directing the alleged funmakers, says they are as perfect in their parts as they will ever be, and Mr. Keefe declares also that the show is going to move with some mighty startling action when once it gets on the boards.

A privileged few outsiders who have been brave enough to stand the tortures of a rehearsal say the show promises to be the best ever given by the local Elks. Those who are to figure in the minstrels and their places are as follows:

Charles M. Niezer, interlocutor.

Frank E. Stouder, Benton J. Bloom, Maurice C. Niezer and Gates D. Horton, balladists.

Chorus—E. A. Karns, W. E. Harber, C. B. Allgeier, Fred H. Marhenke, H. C. Pohlmeyer, Sam H. Randolph, C. S. Hanna, Ray Shreve, George Piepenbrink, Ollie Burlage, Clem Lanternier, Ed Rogers, Jess Hosler, W. H. Link, Robert C. Smith, A. A. Abbott, P. A. Kroeff, W. Armack, Emmet Boland, John Doyle, A. E. Klotz, C. A. Rastetter, Walter Baals, Val King, R. L. Mullen, Frank Besse, George L. Yaple, Henry C. Pequignot, Charles L. Jockel, Lawrence Pape, Otto Koehn, Frank Doriot, A. C. Gladieux, W. C. frigerator car lines, to answer questions in the rate hearing here, will be filed Tuesday. Mr. Hines said that he expected immediate action upon it.

Question is New.

"Ruling on our petition will establish how far witnesses may go in refusing to testify," said Mr. Hines. "This question is new. In a previous application for a ruling E. H. Harriman was allowed to decline to testify but the ground taken then was that the commission did not contemplate making complaint but merely was seeking information on which to base possible recommendations. This is an entirely different case as there is no question that a complaint may be made on the basis of this hearing."

Mr. Hines stated that the rebate question was involved in the inquiry into rates and icing charges of the refrigerator car lines.

"Even if these refrigerator cars are privately owned and are not common carriers," he said, "the commission will inquire into the rates of transportation to see if they are reasonable and to ascertain if through icing charges or other rebates may be accorded.

They Face Prison.

Frederick W. Ellis, vice president of the Armour car line, today faces possible imprisonment because of his refusal to answer questions regarding his company's business asked by members of the commission which is investigating the relations of the railroads with private car lines and shippers.

George W. Boyle, attorney for the commission, announced he will begin contempt proceedings against Ellis and all other officials of the company who refuse to give the desired information. On the advice of attorneys for the company Mr. Ellis refused to disclose details relative to its financial relations with Armour & Co., and its income from car rentals on the grounds that the commission has no jurisdiction over the Armour car line as the company is not engaged in inter-state commerce. Should the courts hold that the commission has no jurisdiction of the affairs of the company Mr. Boyle announced he will begin prosecution of every official of the company who has accepted passes from railroads.

Cabinet Daughter Makes Own Clothes

Washington, Jan. 23—Just because she happens to be the daughter of a cabinet member does not prevent Miss Sidney Burleson from trying to be useful. An expert seamstress, she makes all her own dresses, including her evening gowns. Neither does she let the butterfly life of Washington society interfere with her studies at the George Washington university. Her father is postmaster general.

TWO BANKRUPTCY PETITIONS FILED

Creditors Want Angola Firm Pronounced Insolvent.

ELKHART MAN FILED

A creditors' petition was filed with Clerk T. J. Logan in the federal court here this morning, asking Judge A. B. Anderson to declare insolvent the firm of F. A. Shaw & Co., of Angola. The petitioners are the Lacross Rubber Mills, of Wisconsin; Grant Miller and Fred W. Sheldon.

The petition alleges that the company's merchandise and store fixtures have been attached by the Steuben county sheriff following a suit filed some time ago by a Toledo firm for the collection of a bill of $382.82, and that Floyd Shaw and Elva Shaw, partners in the company, committed and act of insolvency when they executed a mortgage to Charles M. White, of Jackson, Mich., for the sum of $5,126.84. The petitioners are represented by Attorney A. C. Wood, of Angola.

The schedule alleges the Shaw company owes the Lacross Rubber Mills the amount of $493.03, F. W. Sheldon, $172.95 and Grant Miller, $90.60.

Switchman Bankrupt.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed today by Archibald Minegar, a railroad switchman residing at Elkhart. His liabilities are scheduled at $625.83 and his assets are listed at $175, of which $150 is represented in household goods, and $50 in unpaid claims. The petitioner is represented by Attorney C. A. Lee, of Elkhart.

Porters Usually Do.

"When the porter told me a 'gentleman wanted my money,' I told him porters usually did. The next instant I found it was no joke for the bandit pressed his pistol against my head. He got only a few dollars from me."

John Toole, of Saginaw, Mich., occupied the next berth. "I had time to tuck my jewelry and all my money under the mattress except $2, which I kept out for the sake of appearances, but the robber ran before he reached me," said Toole.

P. G. Savage, of Detroit, thought the robber boarded the train at Ann Arbor, Mich., instead of at Jackson.

"I noticed a man who got on at Ann Arbor," said Savage. "He answered the description of the bandit and seemed to be observing everything closely."

OFFICERS TAKE UP TRAIL.

Believe Bandit Returned to Jackson After Leaving Train.

Jackson, Mich., Jan. 23. Deputy sheriffs, police officers and railroad detectives are searching the city today for the bandit who robbed four passengers of Michigan Central train, No. 7, near here early today. They believe he returned here after escaping from the train. It is said three other men left the train when the robber jumped off, but the officers believe they were tramps stealing a ride, and had nothing to do with the hold up.

MUTINY ABOARD STEAMER.

Devonian Puts Back Into Port and Nineteen Are Under Arrest.

Liverpool, Jan. 23.—Mutiny broke out on the steamship Devonian shortly after she left Liverpool yesterday for Boston and she was compelled to put back to Holyhead where nineteen of her crew were arrested. The outbreak was caused by trouble between the union and non-union seamen. The crew was a mixed one and a few hours after the vessel left port the union sailors refused to obey the orders of the ship's officers until the non-union men had been put ashore.

The captain thereupon decided to run back to Holyhead where the steamer came into port with mutiny signals flying.

A detachment of local police responded and arrested nineteen union seamen.

New Arrival in Home of Prince Victor Napoleon at Brussels.

Brussels, Jan. 23.—An heir to Prince Victor Napoleon, the official pretender to the imperial throne of France, was born here today. Prince Victor Napoleon, who is in his fifty-second year, was married in 1910 to Princess Clementine of Belgium. A daughter was born on March 20, 1912.

WIDOW OF FIRE VICTIM IN CITY

Identifies Charred Body of Husband, Fred Snook, Gary Man.

FIRE CHIEF TALKS

Mrs. Fred W. Snook, of Gary, arrived in Fort Wayne in response to messages sent by the police and has identified the body of the man burned to death early Thursday morning in the National hotel fire as that of her husband.

Mrs. Snook was accompanied to Fort Wayne by Mrs. C. W. Williams, wife of one of the men now at Hope hospital suffering from painful but not fatal burns. The Snook and Williams families occupied the same home in Gary at 715 Adams street. Mr. Williams and Mr. Snook came to Fort Wayne Wednesday evening to look for work and were asleep in the same room when the explosion and fire occurred at the National hotel.

Mrs. Williams returned to her home in Gary this afternoon and her husband will follow as soon as the attending physicians pronounce him out of danger. The body of Mr. Snook will be shipped to Trenton, N. J., his former home, as soon as relatives are heard from in that city.

Howard Hughes and Stephen Rommel, of Sturgis, Mich.; William Brown, of Urbana, Ill.; W. O. Reinhart, of Decatur, Ind., and others burned and cut during the fire, are improving as rapidly as can be expected and none of them is seriously injured.

Mrs. Snook, wife of the dead man, stated that she and her husband only recently left their home in the east and moved to Gary. Unable to find suitable work there, Mr. Snook and Mr. Williams, both members of the Carpenters' union at Gary, came to this city in search of work. The identity of the fire victim was not definitely known until Mrs. Snook visited the Klaehn & Melching morgue and examined the charred remains.

Fire Chief Talks.

Fire Chief Henry Hilbrecht states that it is not certain that the gasoline can found in the front portion of the building had anything to do with the rapid spread of flames in the hotel. He states that a can was found, but nothing has been found to show that gasoline figured in the explosion or the blaze that followed.

"The interior of the hotel was very dry," said Chief Hilbrecht, "and the rooms were so constructed that the flames could spread quickly from one part of the building to another. It was found that only wooden partitions separated some of the sleeping rooms, and these partitions did not reach to the ceiling and permitted a draft of air through the place.

"I believe that the city building inspector should refuse to allow the interior of that building to be reconstructed along the same lines. In my opinion the entire interior should be torn out because in its present shape and even if rebuilt as before it would be a fire menace that should not be allowed to exist."

on the floor of the house on the contention that no federal question is involved in either strike to warrant congressional interference.

Sees New Way Out.

After a conference today with Commissioner General Caminetti, Secretary Wilson, of the department of labor, advised Speaker Clark that the problem of Asiatic immigration could be solved by congress raising the standard of admission so as to include in the list of excluded aliens those persons not able to pass the physical tests required of recruits for the United States army.

"Inasmuch as the vast majority of the present day immigrants must earn a livlihood, if at all, by performing manual labor," write Secretary Wilson, "I see no reason why the standard should not be raised to this point."

COMPETITION IS CLOSE.

Annual Poultry Show is Drawing Some Immense Crowds.

Officials in charge of the annual poultry show which opened Wednesday at the Hackett building on West Wayne street, declare that the judging will be completed tonight, except in the special classes. It is said that the competition is very close and in all classes the selection of prize winners has been difficult. Some winners received their ribbons by the small margin of one point.

The show is to continue throughout the week and until next Monday night. Great crowds are reported each afternoon and evening.

GIVE BANQUET TONIGHT.

"Men of Tomorrow" Movement Is Progressing at Southside Baptist Church.

A banquet will be given tonight in connection with the "Men of Tomorrow" movement at the Southside Baptist church and covers are being laid for 125. This movement was started the first part of the year and has been meeting with great success. It is the object of the workers in this movement to get all the boys of the south side to join a Sunday school.

In addition to the musical program which will be rendered tonight the meeting will be addressed by several speakers, in which the following are included: G. H. Hayes, of Hillsdale; J. W. Burns, assistant state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., of Indianapolis; Rev. W. A. Billing, of Lacrosse, Wis., and Mr. Whitbeck, S. B. Bechtel, E. W. Lewis, C. C. Fredricks and E. J. Graham, of this city.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BANQUET.

Teachers and Officers Anticipate a Good Time Thursday Evening.

The Fort Wayne Graded Union of Sunday School Workers, including the teachers and officers of the various schools of the city, will enjoy the annual banquet of the organization on Thursday evening, January 29, at the First Baptist church. Arrangements for the seating of two hundred and fifty people are being made. The chief speaker of the evening will be Rev. O. E. Tomes, pastor of the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ.

WAS BANNER NIGHT.

Business Men of the City Rally at Festival for New School Fund.

Last night proved to be the banner night at the midwinter festival now being conducted at the St. Peter's school hall for the new school fund, as over a hundred business men were present. Owing to the fact that many had to remain at their places of business until late in the evening the crowd at the festival did not swell until a late hour, and caused the officials of the affair to keep open later than usual.

According to those in charge of the various booths the business men showed the true spirit, and receipts at all the booths surpassed those of the two previous nights. The fish pond, which has proved to be so popular a feature, and the luck room sold the most tickets last evening, with the refreshment stand following closely.

It is believed that the entire stock which was placed in the booths at the beginning will be sold out tonight, although a large amount was placed in the hall at the opening night.

"INVESTMENTS AND DIVIDENDS."

Rev. VanNuys Gives Best Argument for Immortality Belief.

"Investment and Dividends," based on Matthew, 7:2, "With what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again," was the subject and text of the sermon delivered last evening by Rev. VanNuys at the Third Presbyterian church. In his sermon he brought out the strongest arguments for the immortality belief.

In part he said: "You get out of life what you put into it. Sometimes injustice reigns here. Right is on the scaffold and wrong is on the throne. You may not get your just dues in this life but in the life to come you will. This is one of the strongest beliefs for immortality. God will there even up things. Justice will prevail there.

"Apply the principle to life. Invest hate and your dividend is enmity. Revenge and hatred soon grow at the heart of him who holds it, and does him a thousand fold more harm than the one upon whom he may wish to vent it. Hatred may fail to act, but it never fails to react."

During his entire sermon he explained what the dividends would be of various kinds of investments, good as well as bad ones.

There will be no services Saturday evening. Sunday Rev. E. Montgomery will occupy Rev. VanNuys' pulpit at Goshen and Rev. VanNuys will have full charge of the services here.

WILL LECTURE TONIGHT.

Rev. O. E. Tomes Will Deliver an Address on Marriage at Y. W. C. A.

Rev. O. E. Tomes, of the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ, will deliver a lecture on marriage this evening at 8 p. m. at the Y. W. C. A. building. His subject for this evening is "What Sort of a Girl Does the Right Kind of a Man Want to Marry?" Next Friday evening, Jan. 30, he will give an address at the same place on "What Sort of a Man Does the Right Sort of a Girl Want to Marry?"

Rev. Tomes is not only an entertaining lecturer but is a clear, thoughtful and forceful speaker. He carries his audience with him in his thought and all women are invited to attend these lectures. Admittance is free.

DEATH COMES TO MRS. HENRY HOPPE

Had Resided in Marion Township for Sixty Years.

OTHER DEATHS TODAY

Mrs. Anna Hoppe, aged eighty-five years, the widow of Henry Hoppe, and a pioneer resident of Allen county, died Thursday afternoon at the family residence in Marion township, where she had lived for the past sixty-three years. Her death was due to complications and followed a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Hoppe was born at Bremen, German, October 22, 1828, and came to this country at the age of twenty-six years. She was married in Marion township and had resided there ever since reaching this country. She was a member of St. John's Lutheran church and was widely known. Surviving she leaves six children—Fred Hoppe, Mrs. Ernest Brandtmiller and Mrs. Barney Koeneman, of Marion township; Henry and Herman Hoppe and Mrs. Fred Furian, of this city. She also leaves five grandchildren and two brothers, Herman and Henry Wetgen, of Bremen, Germany.

Funeral services Sunday afternoon at 1:45 o' clock (sun time) from the residence, and at 2:15 o'clock from St. John's Lutheran church.

NEUMAN.

Walter Leo Neuman, the six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathias Neuman, died at 2:10 o'clock this morning at the family residence, 2153 Weisser Park avenue, after a brief illness from diphtheria. The boy was a pupil at the parochial schools of St. Peter's Catholic church.

Private funeral services will be held Saturday morning from the residence. Interment at the Catholic cemetery.

MULLER.

Herman W. Muller, aged seventy-six years, a life-long resident of Allen county, and a well known retired farmer, died at 8:50 o'clock this morning at the family residence, 916 Old Fort place, after a prolonged illness from Bright's disease.

Mr. Muller was born March 14, 1837, near Leo, and had resided on a farm there nearly all his life. His wife died twenty years ago and shortly afterward he came to Fort Wayne and made his home with a sister-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Muller. Surviving he leaves two sisters and three brothers, Mrs. C. Hutter Carroll, of Iowa; Miss Mary Muller, of Fort Wayne; Francis J., Henry J. and William S. Muller. The latter two are residents of Iowa. He was a member of the Catholic church at Leo.

Funeral services Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the residence, and at 9 o'clock from the Cathedral.

WIDNISKI.

Joseph Widniski, aged seven days, son of Mr. and Mrs. Judge Widniski, 1347 Hayden street, died this morning. Funeral services Saturday morning at 7:30 o'clock from the residence, and at 8 o'clock from St. Hyacinth's Polish Catholic church.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

Cook.—Funeral services for Charles Cook will be held Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the residence, 1917 South Lafayette street and at 9 o'clock from St. Peter's Catholic church. At 11:30 o'clock the body will be shipped by interurban to Logansport.

NOW WE KNOW WHY.

"What's the use of putting on your hat so securely? You'll have to remove it again in the theater."

"Yes, but there's no satisfaction in removing it unless it's a lot of bother to remove it."

Duncan MacNaughton, who is a patient at the Lutheran hospital, and who has undergone a serious operation is doing very nicely.

Woman Leads Fight on "Bathhouse John"

Marion H. Drake
John F. Coughlin

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Miss Marion H. Drake, a slip of a woman, has been chosen as the progressive candidate to beat "Bathhouse John" Coughlin, America's most notorious aldermanic candidate.

If she accepts, and it is expected that she will, she will run for "alderwoman" in the First ward, which has the reputation of being one of the worst in any city in America.

Her campaign fund will be raised by the progressives, who claim that a woman candidate has the best chance to defeat the bad element in the ward.

The women of the ward, and of the whole city, are linked together in a determined working force for the purpose of securing her election.

A woman house-to-house canvas of the ward, torchlight processions and great mass meetings are promised as features of her campaign.

Newly naturalized immigrants in Los Angeles, Cal., are instructed in the responsibilities of American citizenship through the social center. Recognition day services are held at the close of each term of the school.

RICH, BUT CAN'T BOSS LOVE GERM

Has Tried Single Life and Matrimony, Says Both Are Interesting.

MR. JACKLING'S VIEWS

Los Angeles, Jan. 23.—D. C. Jackling, owner of the largest copper mine in the largest copper mining district in the world, and one of the richest mining men in America, is taking the first real vacation of his life. He expects to go from San Diego to Panama, then to Jamaica, Santiago and Havana, Cuba, and back to Florida aboard his palatial yacht, which costs $25,000 a month to operate. But he isn't sure just what he will do, because he believes that too many plans spoil a vacation.

"This is just to be whatever I feel like doing," said Jackling. "While I was in San Francisco I told them to fix me up one floor of the new annex of the St. Francis the way I wanted it so that I could bring a party out here for the fair. They are to build it according to my ideas.

"My views on love and marriage?" he said, in answer to the question, tipping his powerful black head to one side and smiling quizically from his brown, friendly eyes. "Haven't any. No man should have. He may think he knows something about it, but he's kidding himself. He'll find he doesn't.

"I've tried both single life and matrimony. They are both interesting.

"Which is the most interesting is whichever you are or aren't, according to your mood or disposition. I'm contented. I wouldn't dare advise anyone one way or the other."

Mr. Jacklin's Creed.

"No man has any right to have views on love and marriage. It can't be done. You may think you know something about them, but you don't.

"My definition of a bachelor is a single man with privileges.

"Which is most interesting? Whichever you are or aren't, according to your disposition.

"This is my first vacation. Haven't any plans. Plans spoil everything.

"Do whatever you think sounds attractive next."

WOMAN TO BE SUED FOR TAX.

"Mrs." Belle Squire, of Chicago, Refuses to Pay Assessment.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—"Mrs." Belle Belle Squire, exponent of the "no vote no tax" doctrine, will be sued by the county tax officials unless she pays a personal property tax of $2220 notice of which was sent to her yesterday. As her taxes were less than the cost of a suit would have been, "Mrs." Squire has escaped payment of the personal property tax during the last five years.

Despite the recent enfranchisement of Illinois women, she made another "declaration of independence" today. She announced she will not pay this year's tax because it "was levied by officials for whom no woman was allowed to cast a vote." This year the board of assessors placed her assessment high enough to bring her into the class where suits follow delinquency. Although unmarried, she assumes the right to be known as "Mrs." Belle Squire. She is a music teacher and her piano represents the bulk of her personal property.

Chronic Indigestion Permanently Cured.

"Six years ago," writes S. E. Carpenter, East Aurora, N. Y., "I was in very bad shape suffering from indigestion, could not eat solid food, when a friend advised me to try Chamberlain's Tablets. I found such relief from one box that I continued using them until cured, and though six years have elapsed I have not felt the slightest return of my former trouble." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

TEN NATIONS AT A NIGHT SCHOOL

Children Help Parents in Solving Difficult Problems.

QUEER INSTITUTION

Walla Walla, Wash., Jan.—Russians, Italians, Frenchmen, Japanese, Germans, many of them full grown men with families, are industriously learning their "a b'cs" and a lot more at the night school for foreigners conducted here three nights a week by city school teachers. Thirty men of foriegn birth, representing ten nationalities are taking up the work and have progressed from the front of the book on one page of which is printed the figure of the man with the word "man" in big type to the sentences which tell of the care of the hands, of the hair, of the food, &c.

The work is so arranged that while the pupils in obtaining knowledge of English he also is receiving the care of the body and facts relating to this country.

Special emphasis is being laid on the "three R's," and also there is spelling, and for the men who are taking advanced work there is United States history, with particular reference to the mode of government.

Some of the men have children in the fifth and sixth grades, and they are cheerfully trying to catch up with them. Instead of helping their children with sums they call on the children to help them.

One native of France has been in America ten years and until a year ago received no encouragement in mastering English. He picked up enough of the language to make himself understood, and this was all. He took the course last year and in his second year says he has received a vast amount of help.

Across from him sits a Japanese, a resident of America for seventeen years. Until a year ago he had to pick his own way among the words and making good progress. He is a human interrogation point.

At the beginning of last year it was found that there was a number in the class could neither read nor speak English. They were separated from those who attended the previous year and two teachers were obtained. Principal John Woods, of Lincoln school, teaches the second year class, and F. E. Tucker, principal of Green Park school, teaches the beginners. The classes meet Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights for two and a quarter hours.

Professor Tucker last year aided several of his pupils to fill out applications for citizenship and helped many to write business letters, and also wrote letters for one unmarried student to his best girl.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment, Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

WOMEN LIKE JURY SERVICE.

Report for Duty and Say Work is Fascinating.

Montesano, Wash., Janw 23.—Prominent women of Chehalis county have taken up the duties as jurors and are reporting each term of court to assist in hearing cases.

The oldest woman to serve in the county is Mrs. Emily Waldron, age seventy, who resides at Hoquiam. Mrs. Waldron is hale and hearty and has been on five cases since the term opened.

Mrs. W. L. Adams, wife of a millionaire banker of Hoquiam, and prominent in club and charity work, is another well known person who is serving her first term as a juror. The experience makes the work fascinating, declares Mrs. Adams.

Proper Expression of Appreciation.

A compliment should be as quickly given for good goods and good service as a kick for defective goods and poor service. Most people realize this. That is why so many have written to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy telling of remarkable cures of coughs and colds it has effected, and expressing their appreciation of the good qualities of this well known remedy. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

SAYS BOTH PROPOSED.

Woman Who Declares She Was Jilted Seeks $10,000 Damages.

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 23.—Miss Effie Williams, of this city, has filed suit in the Laporte circuit court against Frank Carson, of Adams county, this state, asking for $10,000 for alleged breach of promise. She alleges that Carson, when living in Laporte, proposed marriage to her and she accepted him. She says he was slow about carrying out his promises and so she proposed to him, but he failed to marry her.

Kratzsch & Schroeder, 618 Calhoun St.

AT 117 HE'S HALE AND HEARTY; EXPECTS TO LIVE 25 YEARS MORE.

San Francisco, Jan. 23.—"Did your fall hurt you much, captain?"

Capt. Goddard Ezekiel Dodge Diamond sat the bottle of olive oil down, stopped annointing his elbow and looked up at his questioner.

"Hurt!" he exploded. "Just because I am 117 years old is no reason why a little tumble down a flight of fourteen stone steps should bother me, is it? I'll bet if one of you young fellows had fallen down that flight of stairs you would have had more than a little skinned place on your elbow to show for it. I wasn't hurt a bit, and I went down head first and rolled over and over. People ran up and said, 'Well, the old patriarch is dead at last!' but I jumped up and told 'em nothing doing. You see, I had stumpled. My old pins are not so reliable as they were 100 years ago."

Capt "Zeke" Diamond, 117-year-old patriarch of the Old People's home at San Francisco, and Kenneth Weagant, the superintendent's 6-months-old baby. These are the oldest and youngest members of the institution.

Capt. Diamond is an inmate of the Old People's home here. "Captain Zeke," he is called. He is a great lover of children and is particularly fond of Supt. Weagant's 6-months-old baby, Kenneth.

Captain Zeke was born in 1797. "And I expect to live twenty-five years more," he concluded.

FAMILY ILL; TWO ARE DEAD.

Hicksville, Ohio, Jan. 23.—No sadder home could be imagined than that of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Norrick, who reside in the shoe factory addition. The whole family was stricken with pneumonia, resulting fatally to two daughters, Agnes, aged 3 years, and Elizabeth, aged 9 months. The former died Sunday night and the latter Monday morning. Two other children and the parents are dangerously ill with the same disease. The two children were laid away Tuesday. This was the first double funeral Hicksville has had for some time.

BREAKS A COLD, NEEDS NO HELP

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends severe colds or grippe in few hours.

You can end grippe and break up a severe cold either in head, chest, body or limbs, by taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.—Adv.

HIS WIFE SMOKES AND HE DEPARTED

Tells Court That He is Nearly Asphxiated at Night.

JUDGE UPHOLDS HIM

Washington Pa., Jan. 23. When a wife insists on smoking in bed despite the fact that her husband dreams nightly of the Chicago fire, dies a thousand deaths before morning and opens his eyes to find them full of ashes, she deserves to be deserted and receive no money, either for cigarettes or nourishment. Justice J. F. Carmichael gave that opinion in releasing Daniel Fisher, of No. 35 Ewing street, whose wife accused him of leaving her destitute.

Mr. Fisher said he worked steadily, got along fairly well and was willing to provide for his wife until she contracted the cigarette-smoking habit. Even then, he said, he never once complained when the kitchen smelled like a joss house and smoke poured from the windows during the day. But through the long night, sometimes on the point of death from asphyxiation as the heavy clouds rolled along the pillow, and momentarily expecting to be carried down a ladder amid the clanging of fire bells, he could not bear it. Three long months he tolerated it, he testified, and then feeling like a smoked ham, he slammed the front door, Gladwin bag in hand, and walked out into the air.

Justice Carmichael indicated that he thought Mr. Fisher was more sinned against than sinning and dismissed the charges. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher met as they started to leave the court room. They looked at each other steadily for a moment and then Mr. Fisher said:

"Annie, will you quit smoking in bed?"

"Can't we get some asbestos bedclothes?" asked Mrs. Fisher.

"No," answered her husband, determinedly, "but I will get you a gas heater and a Morris chair if you'll get up when you want a cigarette. Could anything be fairer?"

There was a moment of hesitation and then Mrs. Fisher, taking her husband's arm, said there was nothing like trying. They stopped at the cigar store, which is on the main floor of the building in which the justice's court is located, and Mr. Fisher bought the night's supply.

PATIENT WALLOPS HIS DOCTOR.

Sick Man Thinks Physician a Burglar and Wins Short Bout.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 23.—Dr. J. H. McHenry is a star tennis player and as a lightweight boxer he also has some reputation, but when it comes to the heavyweight class—

The doctor received a call to an address on Central avenue and, after knocking and receiving no reply, walked in. A man lay across the bed.

"My patient has collapsed," thought the doctor.

Taking the man's wrist, Dr. McHenry began to count the pulse beats. The man suddenly revived and swung a hard right hook to the doctor's jaw. He swung again, and once more, but the doctor dodged.

The doctor finally made him understand he was not a burglar or a murderer, but had come on a sick call.

Dr. McHenry reached home and is under the care of two doctors. His eyes display most of the colors of the rainbow.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—Scantiness of Argentine shipments made the wheat market today show an increase of activity and strength. Most of the houses here took to the buying side and opening prices, which were a shade to ¼c higher, seemed inclined to harden still more.

The close was steady, ¾@1½c to ¾@7⅞c net higher.

Although corn started higher with wheat, and because of firm cables, the market failed to hold the advance. Demand was not at all of an urgent sort. The opening was ⅛c to ¼c up, but the gain entirely disappeared.

The close was steady, ⅛c to 1⅛c net higher.

Oats followed corn. Buying proved to be only scattering.

Free selling by commission dealers carried down provisions. The market after an initial decline of 5@7½c to 15c, underwent an additional sag.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Jan. 23.—Trading began today with a highly irregular movement. In some parts of the list profit-taking sales caused a reaction from the high prices established on the recent rise. Union Pacific fell back a point and Canadian Pacific and New York Central nearly as much. Reading, however, continued to advance and Southern Pacific mounted to 97¾, a new high mark for the present movement. Texas company rose two points.

While the level prices at times stood above the high mark reached yesterday, the market lacked the virility and usual abortive power which has characterized it recently. The movement as a whole was fitful and irregular. The Wilson administration's four anti-trust bills, made public overnight, were utilized as a basis of selling by the bears, who sought to convey the impression that certain provisions of the measures were unexpectedly drastic. Bonds were strong.

The market closed strong. The keen demand for stocks carried prices upward with a rush in the final hour. Southern Pacific touched 99½ and B. & O. 98¼.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Rain and slightly colder tonight; Saturday rain or snow and colder. Lowest temperature tonight above freezing.

For Indiana: Rain and colder tonight; Saturday cloudy and colder.

For Ohio: Rain tonight, with warmer except in extreme southwest portion; Saturday rain or snow and colder.

For Lower Michigan: Snow in north portion, rain or snow in south portion tonight and Saturday; colder Saturday.

SUMMARY OF WEATHER CONDITIONS

The northwestern low pressure area is spreading rapidly east and is central over Iowa this morning. Under its influence decidedly warmer weather is general throughout the central portions of the country. As yet little or no rain or snow has fallen over the states east of the Rockies, but west of the Rockies snow or rain has been quite general since yesterday morning. Over the north Pacific coast districts heavy rains have continued. Portland, Ore., reporting more than one inch during the last twenty-four hours.

The low pressure area will continue to spread eastward and will probably give rain in this section tonight, with slightly lower temperature, with rain or snow and colder weather Saturday. The temperature tonight will not fall below freezing.

TAKE NITROGEN FROM AIR.

Concession Granted to Fertilizer Project in Labrador.

St. John, N. F., Jan. 23.—The extraction of nitrogen from the atmosphere on a large scale for use as fertilizer is the purpose of a concession just granted by the colonial government for the employment of Grand Falls in Labrador. The plans call for the development of one million horsepower from the falls to generate electricity.

STRIKE CONDITIONS QUIET.

Girard, Ohio, Jan. 23.—Because the victim is in so serious condition the hearing of Mrs. Patrick Desmond, wife of a striker charged with assault upon Mrs. Walter Nuse, wife of a strike-breaker, was continued until January 31. The assault grew out of the strike at the Chambers plant here were 200 puddlers are on strike. Mrs. Marie Casey and Mrs. Ruth Gross, wives of strikers, were fined $10 and costs which was suspended today for participating in a riot Tuesday. David Willis, a striker, drew $50 and costs and thirty days in the workhouse for the same affray. This was suspended. Conditions are quiet today.
